WOODROW WILSON COMES BACK HOME

Returns to "Old Nassau" for First Time Since His Nomination

TALKS ON POLITICAL BOSSES

The Governor Drops In a Vote for William Hughes—Attacks Progressive Party's Plan for Regulating Trusts.

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 24.—Governor Woodrow Wilson came home today for the first time since he became the Democratic Presidential nominee. Escorted by a procession of students, the former President of Princeton rode in an automobile through Nassau street while the students cheered. The Governor went to a booth and voted for William Hughes, who is a candidate at today's primary election for the Democratic endorsement for United States Senator against former Senator James Smith, Jr.

Governor Wilson shortly afterwards addressed the students from the steps of a church. He discussed the bosses and the trusts.

"The boss merely as a political organizer," the Governor said, "is not dangerous; merely as a manager who commands the organization and gets out the vote on polling day he is not to be feared, and he is an almost necessary instrument of politics, but the man we call boss is the agent of those who wish to control politics as their own interest.

"I have known some of these gentlemen personally and I know exactly how they work. They haven't any politics at all. That is the point and there is no difference between a Democratic boss and a Republican boss, because neither of them is working for his party. They are both working for their clients. And their clients wish to see that men do not get into office who thwart them, and that laws are not passed that embarrass their case.

The chief supporters of the Democratic boss, if he happens to be in the majority, are often those most closely associated with the Republicans and vice versa. The men who chiefly want Jim Smith in the Senate are Republicans, not Democrats, and whenever I have fought him, his chief support has come from Republican newspapers, not independent Republican newspapers that speak public opinion."

Speaking of the proposal of the Progressive party to regulate trusts by means of an industrial commission Governor Wilson said:

"I don't want to regulate trusts. I want to put them on their mettle. I want to see that they can't put anybody out of business except by doing business better than anybody else. I don't want to squeeze the water out of their stocks. I want to put the water on their backs and see if they can carry that water as against the men who are doing business without any water to carry. Then either they will break under the strain or get rid of the water themselves, because they can't carry water and do business against com-on."

Governor Wilson tomorrow will begin a three days' speaking trip to New England. He will spend tomorrow forenoon working on his speeches until 11 o'clock, when he leaves for Hartford, Conn., where he will speak tomorrow afternoon. Wednesday night Governor Wilson will speak in New Haven, where he will spend the night.

On Thursday he will speak in Springfield, Barre, Fall River and on Friday in Boston and Bridgeport, Conn.

On Saturday the Governor will speak at a dinner given here by the College Men's Wilson and Marshall League to Chairman McCombs, celebrating his recovery from several weeks' illness.

A motor trip to Larchmont to visit Chairman McCombs, of the Democratic National Committee, who is ill, was the feature of Governor Wilson's afternoon programme. "I found Mr. McCombs much better," he said. He seems to be getting the right treatment at last."

The Governor's engagements here tonight included making several speeches for phonograph records and conferences with Vice-Chairman McAdoo. Both declined to say anything regarding the New York State situation.

OHIO FARMERS.

Much Impressed With Eastern Carolina's Black Soils, They Say.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 24.—Secretary Elias Carr, of the State Department of Agriculture, is just back from accompanying a party of 25 Ohio farmers on a prospecting trip through the black, drained, soil sections of Eastern Carolina, and says the entire party were enthusiastic and that probably a majority of them will locate in this State. They declared themselves convinced that the North Carolina soil they inspected was three times as productive as that of soils available in Ohio. Mr. Carr believes that more than 10 per cent. of the farmer prospectors who come to this State as homeseekers, locate here.

WALKER W. VICK

Walker W. Vick occupies the responsible position of assistant secretary of the Democratic national committee. Much of the work of the secretary's office falls to his share and he performs it with wisdom and discretion.

PROBE CONGRESSIONAL FIGHT

Chairman Clapp Begins Investigation to Determine if Campaign Contributions Influenced the Tariff Programme.

Washington, Sept. 24.—An investigation to determine whether campaign contributions had anything to do with the refusal of Congress to revise the woolen tariff in the special session of 1909, was started by Chairman Clapp, of the Senate committee investigating campaign expenditures.

It is understood he is preparing to submit to the full committee a list of witnesses, including the names of former Speaker Cannon, Representative McKinley, of Illinois, and Representative Weeks, of Massachusetts, and representatives of various branches of the woolen industry, with the recommendation that they be questioned as to any knowledge they may have of campaign funds furnished in the Congressional fight of 1908.

A number of Eastern men interested in various branches of the woolen business, particularly in the so-called "carded woolen" industry, recently have been in conference with Senator Clapp. The Senator declined to say whether he had any specific information relative to campaign contributions by woolen interests. The worsted manufacturers have been charged in Congress with being especially favored by the tariff, as distinguished from the carded woolen manufacturers.

The purpose in summoning the three Congressmen named, it is understood, is to ascertain the facts surrounding a conference said to have been held in Boston in 1908, between members of Congress and men interested in the worsted woolen manufacturing business. Worsted manufacturers are said to have had a conference later at Chicago over tariff matters, with representatives of the sheep raising interests of the Western and Rocky Mountain States, and it is believed this also will be the subject of inquiry by the Senate committee.

REMARKABLE SWIMMING

Miss Nellie Schmidt Breaks All Records on Pacific Coast

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—Miss Nellie Schmidt, the 19-year-old girl, who recently won distinction by being the first of her sex to swim across San Francisco Bay, swam around Seal Rock in the ocean outside the entrance to the bar today. The feat never before had been attempted.

Miss Schmidt swam fully a mile over the circuitous course and made the distance in 35 minutes and 28 seconds.

SIMMONS TO SPEAK

Appointments for Wilmington, Whiteville and Lumberton

Special Star Correspondence.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 24.—In response to a petition signed by a large number of voters in Wilmington, Mr. S. L. Rogers, campaign manager for Senator F. M. Simmons, decided today to send the Senator to Wilmington to make a speech in behalf of his candidacy for the Senate. The time fixed is Tuesday night, October 1st. While Senator Simmons will not go to Wilmington under instructions from the chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, yet he will discuss the issues of the campaign from a Democratic standpoint as well as his own record in the United States Senate. The Senator will also likely speak to the voters of Columbus at Whiteville on October 2nd and to the voters of Robeson at Lumberton on Thursday, October 3rd.

MARINES TO SAIL FOR SAN DOMINGO

Taft Orders a Force of 750 There to Reopen the Custom Houses

CLOSED BY REVOLUTIONISTS

Americans Will Leave on Transport Friday and Expect to Have Little Trouble In Re-establishing Posts

Washington, Sept. 24.—A force of 750 American marines under Colonel F. J. Moses, will sail from Philadelphia Friday on the transport Prairie for San Domingo, to compel the reopening of Dominican custom houses along the border of Haiti, closed by revolutionists. Authority for this step was given by President Taft today after a conference with Acting Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop, between Washington and New York in the private car on which the President was returning to Beverly. Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson and William T. S. Doyle, chief of the Latin-American division of the State Department, had advised the President yesterday of the necessity for immediate action in San Domingo.

With the marines will go Brigadier General Frank McIntire, chief of the Army Insular Bureau, and Mr. Doyle, as special commissioners to make an investigation of conditions in San Domingo, particularly on the border betwen that country and Haiti, where the revolutionists have been most active. The Prairie will arrive at the island about October 3rd and plans for the disposition of the marines will depend entirely upon conditions existing at that time.

Under the Dawson treaty of 1907 between the United States and the Dominican Republic, the United States is responsible for the collection and distribution of San Domingo's customs dues. Heretofore this has been accomplished peacefully, but rebels operating from Haiti have now closed all four of the border customs posts.

Whatever force that may be necessary will be used by the marines to re-open the posts and continue their orderly operation. Officials believe, however, that when made aware of the determination of the United States government, the rebels will offer no risistance and that it may even be found unnecessary to disembark the marines. But if there should be any sign of resistance, the force will be landed on the north and south coasts and marched directly inland over the wagon roads and trails, for there are no railroads in that section to the customs houses. Besides the marines who will go on the Prairie, perhaps 150 men, bluejackets and marines, may be taken from the gunboat Wheeling, now in Dominican waters, in case of need, and it is said at the Nevy Department that more naval vessels will be sent to Dominican waters at any moment the State Department may desire.

The preparedness of the Marine Corps for an emergency is demonstrated by the short time allowed to get the expedition headed for San Domingo. The force which will sail Friday, scarcely 72 hours after the giving of the order, will be gathered from the Atlantic coast stations of Port Royal, Charleston, Norfolk, Annapolis, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston and Portsmouth, N. H.

NATIONAL PROBLEM.

Is the Construction and Maintenance of Levee System.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 24.—That the construction and maintenance of an adequate system of levees along the Mississippi river as the only means of holding the waterway within bounds, is primarily a National problem, was the concensus of opinion of speakers at the first sessions here today of the annual convention of the Inter-State Levee Association. Complete Federal control was urged by several speakers.

President Taft sent a message urging the necessity of co-operation by the Federal government and the States and suggesting that the needs of the Mississippi valley during the next few years will be so great as to require "all of the funds that can be spared from both the National and State treasuries."

The convention will continue in session tomorrow and Thursday. It is planned to bring about the merger of the 35 minor levee associations of the States bordering on the Mississippi and combine efforts toward securing larger Federal appropriations.

VESSEL IN DISTRESS

Unidentified Brigantine Calls for Help On N. C. Coast

Beaufort, N. C., Sept. 24.—Firing signals of distress and with the heavy seas pounding her sides, a large unidentified brigantine is anchored half a mile off the beach about two miles south of the Core Banks life saving station. A heavy southeast wind is prevailing and all efforts to learn the name of the vessel and the extent of her plight proved fruitless. She apparently carries no deck load.

PRIMARY RETURNS SLOW COMING IN

Hughes Leads Smith in New Jersey, With Few Districts Heard from

FOSS WINNER IN BAY STATE

The Governor Is Renominated Over Democratic Opponent—Race Between Republicans Very Close —Returns Incomplete

Newark, N. J., Sept. 24.—Upon the face of meagre returns from today's State-wide primaries, Representative Wiliam Hughes, of Paterson, was leading former United States Senator Jas. Smith, Jr., late tonight in their race for the Democratic nomination to the United States Senate.

Returns at 1 o'clock from 161 out of the 1,799 voting districts of the State gave Hughes 4,449, Smith 3,570, Frank M. McDermit, of Newark, and former Judge John M. Wescott, of Camden, nad ceased to figure materially in the returns. Senator Frank O. Briggs, Republican, was without opposition in seeking re-nomination.

Newark, N. J., Sept. 24.—Returns were strikingly slow from today's Statewide primary held by Democrats and Republicans, owing to the late closing of the polls and delay in the count. Only 42 out of the 1,799 voting districts of the State had been heard from at 11 o'clock tonight.

Eight of the districts reported are in Essex county, the home of former United States Senator James Smith, Jr., around whom the fight for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator has centered.

Returns from the 42 districts gave Representative William Hughes 1,071; Smith 587; McDermit 35; Wescott 14.

At 11 P. M. leaders of both parties predicted, in view of the late returns, that the result probably would not be known before tomorrow afternoon.

More than ordinary interest was manifested in today's primaries, owing to the active opposition of Governor Wilson, the Democratic nominee for President, to the candidacy of Mr. Smith. Both from the stump and in statements issued to the voters the Governor has voiced his disapproval of the former Senator. Owing to the active part taken by the Presidential candidate his hold upon his party in New Jersey was considered to be the real test of the voting.

Among the Republicans there was no contest over the United States Senatorship, Senator Frank O. Briggs having no opposition. Other nominations to be made today included 12 Congressmen, six State Senators and 60 members of the lower house of the Assembly as well as municipal and county officials, including the mayor of Newark.

Owing to the slowness with which returns on the Democratic Senatorial contest were received, little attempt was made to tabulate the vote for other offices, and figures even in the Congressional contests were unavoidable late tonight.

Foss and Walker Nominated.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—The Democrats selected Governor Eugene N. Foss, of Boston, and the Republicans chose former Speaker Joseph Walker, of Brookline, as their respective can-

OUTLINES

A force of American marines has been ordered to sail for San Domingo Friday to re-open the customs houses, closed by the revolutionists.

Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel officially welcomed the delegates to the International Congress of Chambers of Commerce at Boston yesterday.

Gov. Wilson yesterday returned to Princeton for the first time since his nomination and was given a great welcome. Discussed political bosses and the trusts.

The investigation of fraud charges in connection with the recent South Carolina primary was begun yesterday and a large number of irregularities were unearthed.

Chairman Clapp of the campign contributions investigating committee, is preparing to investigate the part contributions played in the failure of the wool tariff programme in 1909.

The New York Central lines and the Western Maryland Railway have formed an alliance to carry coal from the Pittsburg district to Eastern tidewater points in competition with the nearby coal fields.

Incomplete returns from the Massachusetts primaries last night indicated the renomination of Gov. Foss by the Democrats. The race in the Republican party was too close to predict the result.

Returns from the New Jersey Senatorial primary came in slow last night, and although Wm. Hughes was leading James Smith, Jr., the result will probably not be known before this afternoon.

Will Be Tried on Murder Charge September 30th

COPYRIGHT 1912 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Salem, Mass., Sept. 24.—The trial of Joseph J. Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti, leaders of the Lawrence strike last Spring, for the murder of Anna Lipizzo, will begin Monday, September 30th. The woman was shot during a riot in the street, and Ettor and Giovannitti are accused of inciting the riot, there being no claim that either of them fired the fatal shot. The accused men have been in jail for several months.

NAGEL WELCOMES DELEGATES

Secretary Speaks on International Trade Relations at the Chambers of Commerce Congress—Calendar Reforms.

Boston, Sept. 24.—Brotherhood as an essential in perfecting international trade relations and world peace was dealt upon today by Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel, in an address of welcome to the visiting delegates to the fifth International Congress of Chambers of Commerce. "What we want to establish," said Mr. Nagel, "is such a relation, so intimate commercially and subsequently socially, that no country a party to your Congress will permit controversy because it cannot afford to have it.

"The questions today throughout the world are largely industrial. Contraversies that arise will originate from that interest and if you succeed in establishing 'rules of the game' that will obtain in your dealings, the main cause of friction and controversy will have been removed.

Greetings also were extended to the Congress by Governor Foss, in behalf of the State; Mayor Fitzgerald, for the city; Harry A. Wheeler, of Chicago, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and Edward A. Filne, of Boston, vice president of the International Congress.

President Louis Canon-Legrand responded for the Congress, speaking first in French and then in English. With a report in the reform of the calendar, particularly as to the establishment of a fixed day for Easter, read by President Canon-Legrand, the formal programme was taken up.

Movement to Reform Calendar

The international movement to reform the calendar is making excellent progress, said Louis Cannon-LeGrand today in his address at the opening of the Fifth International Congress of Chambers of Commerce. M. Cannon-LeGrand, who is president of the Congress, is also the head of its permanent committee, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Mons, Belgium, and president of the Federation of Commercial and Industrial Associations of that country.

The principal purpose of the new calendar movement, he asserted, was to make the months of more nearly uniform length and to establish a fixed date for Easter. He pointed out the benefit of such a reform from a banking and commercial standpoint.

To take formal action in the matter, he reported, the Permanent Committee has induced the Swiss government to invite the various governments of Europe to an international diplomatic conference. The American government, he added, has not yet been sounded, because it was considered advisable first to make sure of the official co-operation of the governments of Europe. Since Switzerland has no official representatives at the Vatican, the committee took upon itself to sound the attitude of the Holy See.

"It is of the opinion," he said, "with the majority of those interested in this question, that the reform of the calendar is not practically realizable except with the assent of the Holy See, since the question was largely that of fixing the dates of religious holidays. We know, from a reliable source, that the Holy See has submitted the question of the reform of the calendar for the consideration of the Congregation of Rites. It is stated further that this examination would probably be quite lengthy, since it would give rise to an investigation throughout all Christian countries."

"To work out a calendar," Mr. Cannon-LeGrand continued, "it is essential to bear in mind that an astronomi-

S. C. INVESTIGATION BEGINS

Much Evidence of Fraud In August Primary Election is Unearthed. Meeting Interrupted by Blease Supporters.

Spartanburg, S. C., Sept. 24.—Meeting here today to investigate charges of fraud in the primary election of August 27th, in which Governor Cole L. Blease was nominated for re-election on the face of the returns by a majority of 3,000 out of 140,000 votes cast, a sub-comittee of the State Democratic Executive Committee received numerous affidavits and reports from county committees in which it was represented that hundreds of fraudulent ballots were cast in the Piedmont counties and irregularities were frequent all over the State. Many specific instances were cited in which non-residents, men not enrolled, negroes and miners were allowed to vote, while repeating was said to be common. Several cases were found, it was declared, in which one man voted as many as five times.

The meeting of the sub-committee was interrupted several times by a noisy throng of supporters of Governor Blease, who at one time threatened to create a riot when J. M. Greer, a pro-Blease member of the sub-committee denounced the anti-Blease majority for having held a meeting at Charlotte, N. C., at which they outlined the committee's plan of procedure. Inflamed by Mr. Greer's angry words a hundred or more men left their chairs with yells and advanced menacingly toward W. F. Stevenson, chairman, when he called Mr. Greer to order.

Samuel J. Nichols, an attorney for Governor Blease, begged the men for the Governor's sake to preserve order and was joined by Fred H. Dominick, the Governor's campaign manager. They finally induced the crowd to permit the investigation to continue.

In opening the session, Chairman Stevenson expressed the hope that there would be no cleavage in the committee along the lines of Blease and Jones, the rival candidates for Governor. Other members of the committee spoke similarly. Nevertheless, there was sharp division between the Blease and Jones members on almost every question which arose, and almost constant wrangling.

Governor Blease's attorneys took the position that the committee ought to admit only such evidence of fraud as was presented by Judge Jones, but Chairman Stevenson ruled that the committee would admit evidence from any source. He promised, however, that every opportunity would be given for the refutation of the charges.

It was late in the afternoon when the roll call of counties was begun and the inquiry made as to whether fraud had been discovered in them. Spartanburg, Greenville, Aiken and Anderson counties presented the most serious allegations of fraud. The investigators in the first two counties asked an extension of time to permit them to inquire into the identity of many voters of the same name who are suspected of having been repeaters.

In Abbeville county, it was reported the required oath was not administered to the voters in Cold Spring and Autryville, and these votes were accordingly thrown out.

The investigation will be renewed tomorrow. Most of the counties yet remain to be heard from.

Former Governor John Gary Evans, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, announced tonight that he had issued a call for a meeting of the full State Committee to be held in Columbia next Tuesday to receive a report from the sub-committee engaged in the investigation of the alleged frauds in the primary election.

FREIGHT RATE WAR IS VERY PROBABLE

N. Y. Central and Western Md. Form Coal Carrying Alliance

FROM PITTSBURG DISTRICT

The Plan is to Haul Coal to Eastern Tidewater Destinations in Competition with the Va., W. Va. and Tenn. Fields.

Washington, Sept. 24.—By the terms of an alliance between the New York Central lines and the Western Maryland Railroad, details of which became known here today, coal from the Pittsburg district will be laid down in Baltimore and other Eastern tidewater destinations in competition with coal from Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee fields. Such an arrangement, in the judgment of freight traffic experts, would mean an enormous influx of coal into the East from a source whence the East has received very little and threatens a freight rate war among some of the most powerful railway systems of the country.

George Dixon, vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in charge of traffic was in Washington today in connection with the New York Central-Western Maryland agreement. Officials of other roads directly affected are said to be disturbed over the possibility of the situation. Mr. Dixon desired to ascertain whether any action could be taken either by the Department of Justice or the Inter-State Commerce Commission to prevent the arrangement from becoming effective, but he received no encouragement.

It is understood that the agreement —which already has been effected— was suggested by President W. C. Brown, of the New York Central lines. A plan to get into the Middle Atlantic States territory either with the lines of his own system or through connections with affiliated lines, he now has carried out, by effecting the alliance with the Western Maryland. The practical operation of the plan will be developed through a connection at Connellsville, Pa., between the Pittsburg & Lake Erie Railroad and the Western Maryland. This will afford the New York Central a direct entrance into Baltimore and make it at once a powerful factor in the freight situation throughout the Central Atlantic tidewater territory.

Primarily, it is the purpose to transport bituminous coal from the Pittsburg district, which is covered by the Pittsburg & Lake Erie Railroad, to Atlantic tidewater points. At present, no through freight rates on coal are made by the railroads from the Pittsburg district to the East. Substantially all the coal mined in that district is shipped to Great Lake shores for use there or for trans-shipment by way of the lakes to the Northwest, or to the Middle West.

The shipment of Pittsburg coal into the East is expected to precipitate keen rivalry between the mine operators in that district and those in the Virginia and West Virginia fields, particularly.

BOATS WATERWAYS

Layman E. Cooley Says Lake-to-Gulf Project Is Imperative

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 24.—More important to the people of the United States than the completion of the Panama canal is the construction of a deep waterway from the Lakes to the Gulf, in the opinion of Layman E. Cooley, one of the speakers here today at the annual session of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterways Association.

Mr. Cooley is the consulting engineer of the association. He declared the maintenance of a 14-foot channel is imperative, but that a depth of 24 feet would better serve the interests of the country. Among the other possible benefits to be derived from a deep waterway, aside from increasing transportation facilities, the speaker enumerated the carrying off of the Spring overflow, waterpower development, reclamation of thousands of acres of land in the Mississippi valley and decrease of disease through increased drainage facilities.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will address the convention and will be the guest of the association at an informal luncheon.

NO VIOLENCE ATTEMPTED

Strike Breakers Man Cars of Augusta-Aiken Company

Augusta, Ga., Sept. 24.—No violence was attempted by the striking carmen of the Augusta-Aiken Electric Company when four street cars, manned by strike-breakers and guarded by police, were operated here from noon until dark today. Union carpenters and men of the local typographical union today pledged sympathetic moral support to the striking carmen. The strike question will be discussed tomorrow night at a special meeting of the American Federation of Labor Unions. No attempts were made after dark to operate cars. The local power plants are heavily guarded. Ten strikers and sympathizers were arrested today for hooting and jeering strike-breakers, but they were later released.

T. R. GOES AFTER WILSON.

Governor's Record as Democrat Attacked by Bull Moose.

McAllester, Okla., Sept. 24.—Governor Woodrow Wilson's record as a Democrat was taken up by Col. Roosevelt in an address here tonight. He made his first speech today in Tulsa, Okla., and spent the afternoon in Oklahoma City.

"I noticed two statements by Mr. Wilson," said Col. Roosevelt, in his speech tonight, one appearing in the Sunday papers and one today, which are at variance with each other. In one Mr. Wilson expresses great satisfaction with his party. He says the Democratic party has had substantially the same programme for 16 years. If that is so Mr. Wilson did not know it, for 16 years ago he voted against Mr. Bryan. He has forgotten that little detail of his past life and the expressions he used about Mr. Bryan.

"More than that, the party has not had the same programme for 16 years. It has had every conceivable kind of a programme. Mr. Bryan ran the first time, Mr. Parker next, then Mr. Bryan again. Now Mr. Wilson knows perfectly well that the party wouldn't venture for one moment to adopt its programme of 16 years ago. Its programme then was free silver. Mr. Wilson left it because its programme was free silver.

"I ask Mr. Wilson whether he means that if the programme today was free silver he would vote for it and if not why he bolted. He can choose either horn of the dilemma, but he has got to sit on one of the two horns.

"Speaking in Pennsylvania Mr. Wilson said that while he was a free trader he was not enough of a free trader to hurt. He said: 'You do not suppose that as Democrats are engaged in every kind of enterprise they are going to cut their throats?' Why didn't he think of that in 1896? He took the view then that if the programme of the Democratic party should be put into effect it would cut the throats of the people. Either what he said then was not true or what he says now is not true. He cannot be consistent with both parts of his own record.

"The San Francisco Call, an anti-Roosevelt paper, said in its issue of last Sunday that Mr. Wilson had said: 'We are at a very critical juncture in the history of the Democratic party. There is only one condition upon which the Democratic party can gain the confidence of the Nation and that it should have itself committed through and through to progressive principles.' This is the statement of the Democratic candidate in the middle of the campaign. He doesn't even know whether his party is progressive or not."

Earlier in his speech tonight Col. Roosevelt said: "I noticed the other day that Mr. Wilson was said to be having differences with the Democratic bosses both in New York and New Jersey. That is partly because the difference between the way in which progressives carried out their movement last Spring and the way in which Mr. Wilson's nomination was procured at Baltimore. We Progressives fought the bosses, hoisted the black flag and neither gave nor received quarter.

"In the Democratic party there was no such fight. In the primaries Mr. Clark beat Mr. Wilson by more than 200,000 votes, but none of the bosses at Baltimore paid the slightest heed to the primaries. The people were not represented at Baltimore. Taggart and Sullivan were for Mr. Wilson and they finally forced the convention to acquiesce in the nomination of Mr. Wilson."

Col. Roosevelt left tonight for Arkansas.

WILSON MISSED TAFT

Waited In Penn. Station to Meet President—Both Sorry

New York, Sept. 24.—Governor Woodrow Wilson waited at the Pennsylvania Railroad station for several minutes this afternoon hoping to pay his respects to President Taft en route to New York from Washington. The Governor, who reached the city from Princeton at 2:48 o'clock, was disappointed when he was informed that the President's train would not arrive until 3:27. Having an engagement with William McCombs, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and later, an appointment at National headquarters, the Governor was forced to leave the station before Mr. Taft's arrival.

When Mr. Taft reached New York shortly before 4 o'clock and was told that Governor Wilson had waited for him at the station, the President expressed regret that he had not arrived sooner. "I am very sorry not to have seen the Governor," said the President.

A SEDITIOUS ARGUMENT

(Newton Enterprise).

There is being distributed in this county a circular of Mr. F. R. McNinch, the State manager of Governor Kitchin in his campaign to succeed Senator Simmons in the United State Senate, attacking the State Democratic convention, State Democratic platform and State Democratic campaign committee.

It is charged in this circular that the State convention was packed in the interest of Senator Simmons and that the endorsement of the record of our Senators and Representatives in Congress was the result of a packed platform committee and packed convention. It further charges that the campaign committee, of which Mr. C. A. Webb, the persoial friend and choice of Hon. Locke Craig our candidate for Governor, is chairman, has dodged the request to define who is entitled to vote in the primary for Senator.

This is the most remarkable conduct we have ever known a candidate or the manager of a candidate seeking the votes of Democrats to take in the midst of a campaign, in fact only a few weeks before the election. In our long editorial career, we have often been called on to expose and denounce false rumors, slanderous campaign circulars, and false accusations against the Democratic convention. Democratic committee and Democratic candidates, put in circulation by Republicans, but this the the first time we have ever had to call attention to this kind of dirty emanating from Democrats.

The general run of the Kitchin literature accusing F. M. Simmons of not being a "Progressive" Democrat, of being a "Reactionary" Democrat, etc., has only caused amusement in this county, as every attack on Simmons' Democracy makes Simmons votes. But when almost on the eve of an election, the integrity of the party's convention, platform and executive committee is attacked by or in behalf of a man who for sixteen years has held high office in the Democratic party and is now seeking another, other than amused feelings are excited.

How does this circular letter tally with the second sentence of the boosters supplement he is now sending out in some of the weekly papers: "He has fought with his party and not against it."

A Misleading Sign—She entered the grocery store with a jar of marmalade in her hands and fire in her eye. "See here," she said to the clerk. "I bought this stuff because the card in your window says it's an excellent substitute for butter." "Yes, ma'am, so it is." "Well, it's a grand substitute, I must say! I tried frying a bit of fish with it this morning and the taste was so awful I had to throw the fish away."

ARRANGE FOR WORLD SERIES

National Baseball Commission Meets at New York Today to Settle Details of Great Contest—To Prevent Scalping.

New York, September 24. — The playing dates and other details of the world's series will be settled tomorrow by the three members of the National Commission, Chairman August Herrmann and Presidents Thomas Lynch and Ban. B. Johnson, of the National and American Leagues. Mr. Lynch, who was the only member of the commission here tonight, said he expected his colleagues to arrive from the West at 9:40 tomorrow morning. They will go at once to the home of President John T. Brush, of the New York National League Club, in Pelham Manor, and hold their meeting there. The trip to Mr. Brush's home is due to the fact that he is suffering from an injury to his hip received in a recent automobile accident. Others present at the meeting will be President James McAleer and Secretary Robert McRoy, of the Boston American League Club, and Secretary John A. Heydler, of the National League. President Lynch said tonight the meeting would undoubtedly be ready to announce the dates and make the arrangements for the series tomorrow night.

Mr. Lynch explained that although the New York Giants are virtually within two games of the pennant, the commission would, in deference to Chicago's chances, consider dates for Chicago as well as New York. The New York-Boston probabilities, however, will receive the most attention. The question of in which city the first game will be played will be decided as usual by the toss of a coin by the two club presidents.

It is practically decided that instead of alternating games between each city there will be two contests on consecutive days in each city, and it is believed that a schedule of six games will be crowded into the week beginning October 7th. Unless a tie results or weather interferes, this would dispose of the championship in a single week.

In the hope of preventing the ticket scandal which marred last year's series, the commission will consider this question carefully. When asked tonight if the report that the commission would instruct the clubs to do away altogether with mail order sales of tickets was trustworthy, President Lynch said: "Nothing to this effect has been decided upon. Our slogan is anything to beat the scalpers. We probably shall not beat them altogether in New York, but it must be remembered that there is no city in the world where the scalping business is developed to the extent that it is here and it is a great problem to contend with."

President Lynch would not speak as to the probability that the commission would leave all of the actual ticket selling to the two clubs.

"Whatever is done," he said, "will be under the supervision of the National Commission—closer supervision than ever before."

Prices will be decided upon at the meeting. Those in the Polo Grounds last year—$3 for the upper tier of the grand stand, $2.00 for the lower tier, $1.00 for the bleachers—probably will be in force this year. At Boston there is a new stand, a single deck affair, and the commission will decide as to whether a $3.00 rate shall hold for the entire grandstand, or whether it be divided at $3.00 for the front portion and $2.00 for the rear seats. A dollar will be the bleacher rate. The postponement of the New York-Pittsburg and Chicago-Philadelphia double headers today on account of rain virtually brings the Giants within two games of the pennant. It is expected that they will win it during the series of five games now billed with the Boston tail-enders.

More than 3,000 spectators were at the Polo Grounds today, despite the drizzle, and a small riot developed among them when the first game was called off. They contended that they had not time to await the possibility of a second game and hundreds swarmed to the box office demanding their money back. The special officers were unable to handle the crowd and the city police had to be called upon to disperse the trouble-makers.

RECORD RAINFALL.

Considerable Damage is Done in Robeson by Torrential Rains.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Sept. 24.—This section was visited this morning from 2 to 3 o'clock by the heaviest rainfall of the year, the Weather Bureau reporting 2.32 inches. During the month of June there was during 24 hours 1.50 inches, which was the record of the year up to last night. Reports from the McDonald section indicate that the rain was heavier there than here. Some streams which were almost dry yesterday were raging torrents this morning. Some bridges have been reported washed away. About three miles west of here the wind did considerable damage, uprooting trees and blowing down telephone poles. Cotton suffered severely in some places, much of it being blown and washed from the bolls. Lumber river today had the appearance of an up-country stream, the water being very muddy.

The recent installation of a 500-light electric plant in the palace of the sultan of Oman marked the introduction of electrical machinery into Arabia.

cal year consists of 365.2422166 days. It being impossible to base a calendar on so elaborate a number, the year has been lentgehened to 365 days and a quarter. Then, under Pope Gregory, this lengthening has been compensated by the dropping of three days in the space of four centuries. If, now, we again round off the figure and bring it to exactly 365 days, this annual shortening of the year is compensated by the addition of one day, the 29th day of February, each fourth year. But 365 is not divisible by 7, so that the year is not made up of a whole number of weeks. It would be sufficient, however, to bring the number of days to 364 to adjust everything.

"The basis of the reform is the ingenious idea of withdrawing from the regular course of the weeks the first day of January. The first of January would be New Year's Day. This day is already, according to our customs throughout the civilized countries, devoted to quite different occupations from those of other days of the year; it therefore possesses a peculiar character and deserves to be distinguished from all other days.

"In leap year, a day would be interpolated, to be known as 'leap day,' which would be placed, according to some, after the 30th of June, or according to others at carnival time. This, of course, is a mere detail.

"If we, therefore, concede that the day following New Year's Day is to be January 1st, we can then divide the year into four equal periods of three months each, each 91 days long, and, by a happy coincidence, each of these quarters would consist of exactly 13 weeks.

"It will therefore be sufficient to consider one of these quarters to understand the whole.

"In order not to change too much our present customs, we divide the quarter into three months, consisting of 30, 30 and 31 days. Only the last month of each quarter would have 31 days, and these 31st days would be Sundays if we begin the quarters on Monday. It will be seen, therefore, that we should preserve our habit of speaking in half-years, quarters, months and weeks. It seems to us, therefore, that there would be a good chance of persuading the public to accept a modification of the present calendar."

NEW TELEPHONE LINES

Work of Stringing Additional Wires In This Section Begun

Mr. Stephen D. Lucas, local manager of the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co., announced yesterday that work was begun a few days ago stringing an additional through long distance telephone wire from Wilmington to Maxton, an additional through long distance wire from Wilmington to Councils and an additional wire for local business between Bladenboro and Lumberton. This will give two through lines from Wilmington to Maxton, one through line to Lumberton and one local line to Maxton. The local lines handle the business between all points. The additional wire will give two lines to Councils. When the wires have been strung and placed in commission the telephone service between the points affected will be greatly improved. The work is being done under the supervision of Mr. Edgar C. Yarborough, a popular foreman of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., with headquarters in Charlotte. He formerly lived in Wilmington. It was said yesterday that the work had progressed to a point nine miles out from Wilmington.

The Wilmington Presbytery

The Fall meeting of the Wilmington Presbytery convened last night in the new Presbyterian church at Clarkton. The opening sermon last night was to have been preached by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. Dr. McClure, Rev. H. W. Koelling, assistant pastor of St. Andrew's, and Mr. W. B. McClellan were among those leaving yesterday afternoon for Clarkton. Mr. Koelling is to be ordained into the ministry at this session as is also Rev. A. J. Howell, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

REMEDIAL LEGISLATION

Is Proposed As Solution of Dependent Children Problem

Washington, Sept. 24.—Remedial legislation, including old age pensions and non-employment insurance was proposed as a solution of the problem of dependent children and needy families, by former Judge Michael F. Girter, of Chicago, at the second day's session of the National Conference of Catholic Charities today.

Judge Girter said too, that accident and industrial insurance, if properly maneged, would do much to prevent children becoming dependent upon the State, and said if the plan of sickness insurance were adopted many families could remain together and not be broken up and scattered among charitable organizations as happens now almost every day.

"I know some of these ideas are new," said the judge, "but I believe we should give them a trial and if they prove ineffective they can easily be changed." He told how these measures were established in Germany and other European countries, and said that many of the large corporations in this country had adopted pension systems for their employes. In the discussion of the subject Mrs. Edward Mandel, of New York, said she was opposed to taxing those who are industrious and frugal for the support of the thriftless, improvident and indolent classes.

Joseph W. Brooke, of Baltimore, discussing the care of unfortunate families, said the family on the verge of independence needs more attention than the family with starvation staring it in the face. He suggested as a remedy for unfortunate families their removal from their old environments and asociations, thereby many times removing temptations.

Rector Barnabas, of the Lincoln Agricultural School at Lincolndale, N. Y., told the conference that many friendless boys taken off of the streets of New York city and placed on the farm had become efficient and useful men on the farms in New York State.

OPEN AIR SCHOOLS GROW FAST.

Increase From 1 to 200 in Five Years. Tuberculosis.

New York, Sept. 21. — With the opening of the Fall school term, over 200 open air schools and fresh air classes for tuberculous and anaemic children, and also for all children in certain rooms and grades, will be in operation in various parts of the United States, according to a statement published today by The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

All of these schools, the association says, have been established since January, 1907, when the first institution of this character was opened in Providence, R. I. On January 1st, 1910, there were only 13 open air schools in this country and a year later the number had increased only to 29. Thus, the real growth in this movement has been within the last two years.

Massachusetts now leads the States with 80 fresh air schools and classes for tuberculous, anaemic and other school children, Boston alone having over eight. New York comes next with 29, and Ohio is third with 21. Open air schools have now been established in nearly 50 cities in 19 different States.

Based on figures of population and mortality furnished by the United States Bureau of the Census, it is estimated that not less than 100,000 children now in school in the United States will die of tuberculosis before they are eighteen years of age, or that about 7,000 of these children die annually from this one disease. Estimating that on an average each child who dies from tuberculosis has had six years of schooling, the aggregate loss to this country in wasted education each year amounts to well over $1,000,000.

SENATOR SIMMONS IN ANSON

Delivers Two Speeches to Large Audiences and Answers Some Attacks on His Record—A Fine Impression.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wadesboro, N. C., Sept. 24.—Senator Simmons spoke today at Morven to an enthusiastic audience of at least 500 people. The engagement was made by his friends here when it was learned that he was coming to Anson today to speak. He explained that since the engagement at Morven was made by his friends and not by the State Executive Committee, he felt at liberty to answer some charges that had been made against him and did this more than in any other of his speeches except the Charlotte speech.

He said he was not running from his record, but depending upon it for his re-election. He declared that he would not attack the public record of any Democrat holding high office under the party; that he would not charge that the Democratic convention was packed or that the Democratic executive committee was composed of prejudiced men. In this connection he pointed to the fatal split in the Republican party at present. He referred to the campaign of 1908 when only one candidate was criticised and abused from one end of the State to the other and said he himself was this year the only candidate being criticised, but rejoiced that when the exigencies of the campaign are over, then he would get back his character and those who say mean things of him will regret the course they pursued.

Speaking of the Payne-Aldrich tariff measure of 1909, Mr. Simmons said that he voted against everyone of the 3,000 items in that bill except 13, which concerned Southern products and that on these he voted to reduce the tariff duty about 35 per cent. He was unwilling to sit there and see a protective duty placed upon every product made in the North while Southern products were placed on the free list, making the South a hewer of wood and drawer of water as it has been for 50 years. Democracy, he said, stood for equal taxation and not for the unequal plan for which men like Aldrich have worked. He said the 7 per cent. duty on lumber did not recoup the lumbermen for the tariff placed by the Payne-Aldrich act on saw mill machinery used in the manufacture of lumber. This 7 per cent. is not a protective duty, but has been the best paying revenue duty on the list. If it is protective, then every Democrat in the Senate and House voted for protective duties more than four times as great when the 40 per cent. duty was placed on wool.

Why do not the tariff reformers throw the lasso around the necks of Congressmen Small, Thomas, Godwin, Fou, Webb, Page, and other Southern Representatives who voted on lumber as Simmons voted? He mentioned the fact that Tillman, Bacon, Martin and the late Senator Daniels, of Virginia, voted as he did on this question, yet they have all been nominated by their people since that vote. He said that since he had cast that vote the Democrats of the Senate made him the leader on the Democratic side of the committee to investigate the relation of the tariff and trust on high prices while Smoot and Lodge represented the Republicans. He was the man selected to answer on the floor of the Senate the majority report made by these Republicans. Then again, when the Democratic House had prepared a number of tariff bills and sent them to the Senate Simmons was the man they selected to lead the fight for the passage of these bills. These should prove his Democracy. At this time it was thought impossible to line up the progressive Democrats and Republicans to pass these bills and the difficult task was given to their Senior Senator from North Carolina.

In voting the 19 votes against the majority of the Democratic party he declared that he also voted at the same time against a majority of the Republican party. He declared that they were not protection votes, but for lower duties on the products bought by the farmers. If the other Senatorial candidates will explain what those 19 votes were for, then he said his majority would be greater than ever. The Senator explained these votes to the full satisfaction of his large audience. Many were heard to say after the speech that they knew he could answer the criticism. He said he voted one time one way on the Lorimer question and the other way next time and voted right each time. He voted to re-open the case after the first investigation and when all the evidence was in, voted against Lorimer.

There was much applause during the speech which lasted more than two hours. He had the crowd with him to the end and when several times he started to quit, they yelled "go on, we are enjoying it." He paid glowing tributes to Wilson and Craig and said now was the time for the Republican come-back. "Who is your candidate?" he asked, declaring that he did know whether it was an elephant or a bull moose.

The Senator speaks in Albemarle tomorrow and is speaking in the Court House here tonight to a large audience along the same lines as his speech this afternoon.

KINSTON GLEANINGS

Bad Negro Arrested — Lightning's Freak—Col. Z. P. Smith

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 24.—Joe Bunting, a young negro, was taken by the police in South Kinston, and was carried to Plymouth by Sheriff Reed, of Washington county. Bunting was surprised by the officers in a resort. His appearance was noted by a patrolman on the street, and he was tracked to the house. Bunting was arrested upon the request of the Washington county authorities, for a serious assault upon young John Kearney, a Snow Hill man, on an excursion train to Norfolk last week. The affair, which was of the nature of a free-for-all affray, occurred in Washington county, 20 miles from Edenton. Kearney was badly cut on the forehead, cheek and arm, and had to be taken from the train at Edenton for medical aid.

Kearney, the victim of the assault, is rapidly recovering from his wounds. There is a rumor that his family will bring suit against the Norfolk Southern Company, but this is not verified.

Lightning damaged the home of Zeo B. Jones, a prominent Greene county man, to the extent of several hundred dollars, in a freakish manner. A bolt struck the chimney of the house, ran down its side, around the house, and up to the roof, tearing it off entirely, and through the rooms. Mrs. Jones with her eight-months-old baby was sitting in the door, and both were stunned, but otherwise uninjured. The lightning killed fowls in the yard promiscuously, tore off shingles and timbers from the roof and threw them a distance of 50 yards, scorched the sills under the house, and queerest of all, melted every particle of quicksilver from the back of a bureau mirror, leaving the mirror and bureau without a scratch otherwise. Beds in one room were moved from next the walls to the center of the floor, but undamaged. Mrs. Jones quickly recovered from the shock, but the infant did not come to until 12 hours later, after the family had spent a sleepless night with the little one. Neither mother nor child seemed to be any the worse for their strange experience, the baby being as bright as ever after regaining consciousness.

Maj. Z. P. Smith, well-known in insurance, railroad, newspaper and fraternal circles throughout the State, will become supervisor of agencies for the North State Life Insurance Company, of this city. Major Smith made the fact known in a statement yesterday. He has been connected with the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, the Equitable and other life insurance companies, was prominent in the head councils of secret orders, and several years ago was editor of the Greensboro News. He is on the brigade staff of the North Carolina National Guard and is one of the best known figures in that organization. Major Smith's duties as supervisor of agencies for the North State will take him through several States in which the company operates. He will not move his family to this city for some time yet.

Hon. C. C. Daniels, of Wilson, will address the citizens of Lenoir county Friday, October 4th, at LaGrange at 11 A. M. and at Kinston at night.

NO REAL COMPETITION.

This is Evidence Brought Out at Oil Trust Hearing.

New York, Sept. 24.—The Standard Oil Company of New York does not consider it good business policy to compete with the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey in the latter's territory as regards the sale of naptha, at any rate. Testimony to this effect was adduced today at the resumption of the hearings in the Standard Oil-Water Pierce litigation, Joseph H. Howell, city sales manager for the Standard Oil Company of New York, testified that the retail price of naptha in the city was 16 cents as against 18 1-2 cents in New York. Notwithstanding this, he added, his company did not deem it expedient to invade New Jersey.

It has been the aim of the Waters-Pierce lawyers to show that former trusts have not served the spirit of the Supreme Court dissolution decree and there is no real competition between its former subsidiaries.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 24.—The reserve naval torpedo flotilla, bound from Charleston, S. C., to join the naval rendezvous at New York, arrived today at the Norfolk Navy Yard, just ahead of the severe storm sweeping this coast. The little vessels, here for a "brushing up," prior to sailing for New York, are the Stockton, Tingey, Thornton, Shubrick, DeLong, Dahlgren, Craven and McDonough. All are torpedo boats except the McDonough, a destroyer.

PLENTY OF PROOF

From People You Know—From Wilmington Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced by evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Wilmington, of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it:

Mrs. W. W. Mince, 712 Vollers st., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I am very thankful to Doan's Kidney Pills for the great benefit I received from their use. For a long time kidney trouble clung to me and I was caused great annoyance by the kidney secretions. My back ached and I did not seem able to get a minute's peace. Some days I was hardly able to move around to attend to my work. At last I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from Bellamy's Drug Store and they restored me to good health." (Statement given February 24, 1908.)

ENDORSES DOAN'S AGAIN.

Mrs. Mince was interviewed on December 27, 1910, and she said: "I can still speak highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and recommend them as being good for kidney trouble. During the past two years I have taken this remedy and it always has a prompt and beneficial effect."

TO PREVENT HYDROPHOBIA

Means Suggested to Make Man Immune From Rabies of Dogs

Washington, Sept. 24.—Suggestion of a means which may give to man an absolute immunity from rabies of dogs, without reference to the time elapsed after being bitten, was offered by Dr. J. L. Harris, City Bacteriologist and Pathologist of St. Louis, Missouri, in a paper read today before the 15th International Congress on Hygiene and Demography.

Giving a summary of his own work, Dr. Harris described a series of experiments with dogs and rabbits by which immediate and direct immunization against rabies was secured by the injection of fractional parts of a grain of non-infective rabies virus of a special type, of virus produced from the brain of a dog, dead of rabies, frozen with carbondioxide, snow dried in a vacuum at a very low temperature and kept in an ice box.

In a paper on diseases and injuries occurring in electric plants, Dr. J. D. McGowan, surgeon of the Commonwealth Edison Co., of Chicago, Ill., declared that the popular impression shared with the laity by many physicians that contact with electric current caused paralysis and brain lesions, was an erroneous one. Dr. McGowan said he had seen hundreds of cases of shock, and where the man did not meet immediate death there never had ben a case in which the patient suffered in any way outside of local effect of the burns.

A plea for an efficient supply and exhaust circulation of air for seamen on a man-of-war in time of battle was made by Surgeon R. C. Holcomb, U. S. N. In part, Dr. Holcomb said:

"A ship in time of peace, at which time the hatches are open, is a much different problem in ventilation than a ship with its hatches battened down ready to enter into battle.

"In peace time the air that is forced into a compartment finds a ready exit through the open hatches. When all hatches are closed, on the other hand, and air is forced in, it is at first slightly compressed and then ceases to be delivered."

Dr. Holcomb recommended that attention be directed toward the reduction of steam-driven machinery and the substitution of electrically-driven machinery.

London, Sept. 24.—A match for the sculling championship of the world is to be rowed on October 14th on the Thames, betwen Ernest Barry, the holder of the title, and Edward Hanlan Durnan, of Toronto, the champion sculler of America.

A WONDERFUL EXPERIENCE

With Newbro's Herpicide

While there are no thrills in the narration of Mrs. P. T. Nichols, 623 Broad St., Beloit, Wis., her story is nevertheless one of amazing interest: "Stricken with neuralgia and erysipelas, I lost all my hair. My doctor recommended Newbro's Herpicide. I used six or eight bottles and now have a fine head of slightly curly light brown hair. Not a gray hair in my head. This is the more remarkable as I am middle-aged."

While the results which follow the use of Newbro's Herpicide are always more or less astonishing, they are always natural. Herpicide destroys the dandruff germ, stimulates the flow of blood to the hair follicles and keeps the scalp perfectly healthy. It makes possible a natural and luxuriant growth of hair, except in cases of chronic baldness.

While remedies said to be "every bit as good" as Newbro's Herpicide are frequently offered, one should insist upon having the original germ destroyer, Herpicide. That is genuine. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

For sale at all drug stores. One dollar size bottles are guaranteed. Applications may be obtained at good barber shops. Send 10c in postage for sample to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

T. R. GOES AFTER WILSON.

Governor's Record as Democrat Attacked by Bull Moose.

McAlester, Okla., Sept. 24.—Governor Woodrow Wilson's record as a Democrat was taken up by Col. Roosevelt in an address here tonight. He made his first speech today in Tulsa, Okla., and spent the afternoon in Oklahoma City.

"I noticed two statements by Mr. Wilson," said Col. Roosevelt, in his speech tonight, one appearing in the Sunday papers and one today, which are at variance with each other. In one Mr. Wilson expresses great satisfaction with his party. He says the Democratic party has had substantially the same programme for 16 years. If that is so Mr. Wilson did not know it, for 16 years ago he voted against Mr. Bryan. He has forgotten that little detail of his past life and the expressions he used about Mr. Bryan.

"More than that, the party has not had the same programme for 16 years. It has had every conceivable kind of a programme. Mr. Bryan ran the first time, Mr. Parker next, then Mr. Bryan again. Now Mr. Wilson knows perfectly well that the party wouldn't venture for one moment to adopt its programme of 16 years ago. Its programme then was free silver. Mr. Wilson left it because its programme was free silver.

"I ask Mr. Wilson whether he means that if the programme today was free silver he would vote for it and if not why he bolted. He can choose either horn of the dilemma, but he has got to sit on one of the two horns.

"Speaking in Pennsylvania Mr. Wilson said that while he was a free trader he was not enough of a free trader to hurt. He said: 'You do not suppose that as Democrats are engaged in every kind of enterprise they are going to cut their throats?' Why didn't he think of that in 1896? He took the view then that if the programme of the Democratic party should be put into effect it would cut the throats of the people. Either what he said then was not true or what he says now is not true. He cannot be consistent with both parts of his own record.

"The San Francisco Call, an anti-Roosevelt paper, said in its issue of last Sunday that Mr. Wilson had said: 'We are at a very critical juncture in the history of the Democratic party. There is only one condition upon which the Democratic party can gain the confidence of the Nation and that it should have itself committed through and through to progressive principles.' This is the statement of the Democratic candidate in the middle of the campaign. He doesn't even know whether his party is progressive or not."

Earlier in his speech tonight Col. Roosevelt said: "I noticed the other day that Mr. Wilson was said to be having differences with the Democratic bosses both in New York and New Jersey. That is partly because the difference between the way in which progressives carried out their movement last Spring and the way in which Mr. Wilson's nomination was procured at Baltimore. We Progressives fought the bosses, hoisted the black flag and neither gave nor received quarter.

"In the Democratic party there was no such fight. In the primaries Mr. Clark beat Mr. Wilson by more than 200,000 votes, but none of the bosses at Baltimore paid the slightest heed to the primaries. The people were not represented at Baltimore. Taggart and Sullivan were for Mr. Wilson and they finally forced the convention to acquiesce in the nomination of Mr. Wilson."

Col. Roosevelt left tonight for Arkansas.

WILSON MISSED TAFT

Waited In Penn. Station to Meet President—Both Sorry

New York, Sept. 24.—Governor Woodrow Wilson waited at the Pennsylvania Railroad station for several minutes this afternoon hoping to pay his respects to President Taft en route to New York from Washington. The Governor, who reached the city from Princeton at 2:48 o'clock, was disappointed when he was informed that the President's train would not arrive until 3:27. Having an engagement with William McCombs, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and later, an appointment at National headquarters, the Governor was forced to leave the station before Mr. Taft's arrival.

When Mr. Taft reached New York shortly before 4 o'clock and was told that Governor Wilson had waited for him at the station, the President expressed regret that he had not arrived sooner. "I am very sorry not to have seen the Governor," said the President.

St. Louis, Sept. 24.—Chicago won the first game of a double-header from St. Louis here this afternoon 6 to 2, and tied with St. Louis, 2 to 2, in the second contest, which was called at the end of the 10th because of darkness. In the first game Chicago mixed hits with errors, while Walsh was effective in all but two innings. The second game was a pitchers' battle between Hamilton and Benz.

A SEDITIOUS ARGUMENT

(Newton Enterprise).

There is being distributed in this county a circular of Mr. F. R. McNinch, the State manager of Governor Kitchin in his campaign to succeed Senator Simmons in the United State Senate, attacking the State Democratic convention, State Democratic platform and State Democratic campaign committee.

It is charged in this circular that the State convention was packed in the interest of Senator Simmons and that the endorsement of the record of our Senators and Representatives in Congress was the result of a packed platform committee and packed convention. It further charges that the campaign committee, of which Mr. C. A. Webb, the persoial friend and choice of Hon. Locke Craig our candidate for Governor, is chairman, has dodged the request to define who is entitled to vote in the primary for Senator.

This is the most remarkable conduct we have ever known a candidate or the manager of a candidate seeking the votes of Democrats to take in the midst of a campaign, in fact only a few weeks before the election. In our long editorial career, we have often been called on to expose and denounce false rumors, slanderous campaign circulars, and false accusations against the Democratic convention. Democratic committee and Democratic candidates, put in circulation by Republicans, but this the the first time we have ever had to call attention to this kind of dirty emanating from Democrats.

The general run of the Kitchin literature accusing F. M. Simmons of not being a "Progressive" Democrat, of being a "Reactionary" Democrat, etc., has only caused amusement in this county, as every attack on Simmons' Democracy makes Simmons votes. But when almost on the eve of an election, the integrity of the party's convention, platform and executive committee is attacked by or in behalf of a man who for sixteen years has held high office in the Democratic party and is now seeking another, other than amused feelings are excited.

How does this circular letter tally with the second sentence of the boosters supplement he is now sending out in some of the weekly papers: "He has fought with his party and not against it."

A Misleading Sign—She entered the grocery store with a jar of marmalade in her hands and fire in her eye. "See here," she said to the clerk. "I bought this stuff because the card in your window says it's an excellent substitute for butter." "Yes, ma'am, so it is." "Well, it's a grand substitute, I must say! I tried frying a bit of fish with it this morning and the taste was so awful I had to throw the fish away."

ARRANGE FOR WORLD SERIES

National Baseball Commission Meets at New York Today to Settle Details of Great Contest—To Prevent Scalping.

New York, September 24. — The playing dates and other details of the world's series will be settled tomorrow by the three members of the National Commission, Chairman August Herrmann and Presidents Thomas Lynch and Ban. B. Johnson, of the National and American Leagues. Mr. Lynch, who was the only member of the commission here tonight, said he expected his colleagues to arrive from the West at 9:40 tomorrow morning. They will go at once to the home of President John T. Brush, of the New York National League Club, in Pelham Manor, and hold their meeting there. The trip to Mr. Brush's home is due to the fact that he is suffering from an injury to his hip received in a recent automobile accident. Others present at the meeting will be President James McAleer and Secretary Robert McRoy, of the Boston American League Club, and Secretary John A. Heydler, of the National League. President Lynch said tonight the meeting would undoubtedly be ready to announce the dates and make the arrangements for the series tomorrow night.

Mr. Lynch explained that although the New York Giants are virtually within two games of the pennant, the commission would, in deference to Chicago's chances, consider dates for Chicago as well as New York. The New York-Boston probabilities, however, will receive the most attention. The question of in which city the first game will be played will be decided as usual by the toss of a coin by the two club presidents.

It is practically decided that instead of alternating games between each city there will be two contests on consecutive days in each city, and it is believed that a schedule of six games will be crowded into the week beginning October 7th. Unless a tie results or weather interferes, this would dispose of the championship in a single week.

In the hope of preventing the ticket scandal which marred last year's series, the commission will consider this question carefully. When asked tonight if the report that the commission would instruct the clubs to do away altogether with mail order sales of tickets was trustworthy, President Lynch said: "Nothing to this effect has been decided upon. Our slogan is anything to beat the scalpers. We probably shall not beat them altogether in New York, but it must be remembered that there is no city in the world where the scalping business is developed to the extent that it is here and it is a great problem to contend with."

President Lynch would not speak as to the probability that the commission would leave all of the actual ticket selling to the two clubs.

"Whatever is done," he said, "will be under the supervision of the National Commission—closer supervision than ever before."

Prices will be decided upon at the meeting. Those in the Polo Grounds last year—$3 for the upper tier of the grand stand, $2.00 for the lower tier, $1.00 for the bleachers—probably will be in force this year. At Boston there is a new stand, a single deck affair, and the commission will decide as to whether a $3.00 rate shall hold for the entire grandstand, or whether it be divided at $3.00 for the front portion and $2.00 for the rear seats. A dollar will be the bleacher rate. The postponement of the New York-Pittsburg and Chicago-Philadelphia double headers today on account of rain virtually brings the Giants within two games of the pennant. It is expected that they will win it during the series of five games now billed with the Boston tail-enders.

More than 3,000 spectators were at the Polo Grounds today, despite the drizzle, and a small riot developed among them when the first game was called off. They contended that they had not time to await the possibility of a second game and hundreds swarmed to the box office demanding their money back. The special officers were unable to handle the crowd and the city police had to be called upon to disperse the trouble-makers.

RECORD RAINFALL.

Considerable Damage is Done in Robeson by Torrential Rains.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Sept. 24.—This section was visited this morning from 2 to 3 o'clock by the heaviest rainfall of the year, the Weather Bureau reporting 2.32 inches. During the month of June there was during 24 hours 1.50 inches, which was the record of the year up to last night. Reports from the McDonald section indicate that the rain was heavier there than here. Some streams which were almost dry yesterday were raging torrents this morning. Some bridges have been reported washed away. About three miles west of here the wind did considerable damage, uprooting trees and blowing down telephone poles. Cotton suffered severely in some places, much of it being blown and washed from the bolls. Lumber river today had the appearance of an up-country stream, the water being very muddy.

The recent installation of a 500-light electric plant in the palace of the sultan of Oman marked the introduction of electrical machinery into Arabia.

The Men Who Succeed

as heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, today, demands health. To all is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half-alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders, and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50 cents at R. R. Bellamy's.

cal year consists of 365.2422166 days. It being impossible to base a calendar on so elaborate a number, the year has been lentgehened to 365 days and a quarter. Then, under Pope Gregory, this lengthening has been compensated by the dropping of three days in the space of four centuries. If, now, we again round off the figure and bring it to exactly 365 days, this annual shortening of the year is compensated by the addition of one day, the 29th day of February, each fourth year. But 365 is not divisible by 7, so that the year is not made up of a whole number of weeks. It would be sufficient, however, to bring the number of days to 364 to adjust everything.

"The basis of the reform is the ingenious idea of withdrawing from the regular course of the weeks the first day of January. The first of January would be New Year's Day. This day is already, according to our customs throughout the civilized countries, devoted to quite different occupations from those of other days of the year; it therefore possesses a peculiar character and deserves to be distinguished from all other days.

"In leap year, a day would be interpolated, to be known as 'leap day,' which would be placed, according to some, after the 30th of June, or according to others at carnival time. This, of course, is a mere detail.

"If we, therefore, concede that the day following New Year's Day is to be January 1st, we can then divide the year into four equal periods of three months each, each 91 days long, and, by a happy coincidence, each of these quarters would consist of exactly 13 weeks.

"It will therefore be sufficient to consider one of these quarters to understand the whole.

"In order not to change too much our present customs, we divide the quarter into three months, consisting of 30, 30 and 31 days. Only the last month of each quarter would have 31 days, and these 31st days would be Sundays if we begin the quarters on Monday. It will be seen, therefore, that we should preserve our habit of speaking in half-years, quarters, months and weeks. It seems to us, therefore, that there would be a good chance of persuading the public to accept a modification of the present calendar."

NEW TELEPHONE LINES

Work of Stringing Additional Wires In This Section Begun

Mr. Stephen D. Lucas, local manager of the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co., announced yesterday that work was begun a few days ago stringing an additional through long distance telephone wire from Wilmington to Maxton, an additional through long distance wire from Wilmington to Councils and an additional wire for local business between Bladenboro and Lumberton. This will give two through lines from Wilmington to Maxton, one through line to Lumberton and one local line to Maxton. The local lines handle the business between all points. The additional wire will give two lines to Councils. When the wires have been strung and placed in commission the telephone service between the points affected will be greatly improved. The work is being done under the supervision of Mr. Edgar C. Yarborough, a popular foreman of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., with headquarters in Charlotte. He formerly lived in Wilmington. It was said yesterday that the work had progressed to a point nine miles out from Wilmington.

The Wilmington Presbytery

The Fall meeting of the Wilmington Presbytery convened last night in the new Presbyterian church at Clarkton. The opening sermon last night was to have been preached by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. Dr. McClure, Rev. H. W. Koelling, assistant pastor of St. Andrew's, and Mr. W. B. McClellan were among those leaving yesterday afternoon for Clarkton. Mr. Koelling is to be ordained into the ministry at this session as is also Rev. A. J. Howell, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

REMEDIAL LEGISLATION

Is Proposed As Solution of Dependent Children Problem

Washington, Sept. 24.—Remedial legislation, including old age pensions and non-employment insurance was proposed as a solution of the problem of dependent children and needy families, by former Judge Michael F. Girter, of Chicago, at the second day's session of the National Conference of Catholic Charities today.

Judge Girter said too, that accident and industrial insurance, if properly maneged, would do much to prevent children becoming dependent upon the State, and said if the plan of sickness insurance were adopted many families could remain together and not be broken up and scattered among charitable organizations as happens now almost every day.

"I know some of these ideas are new," said the judge, "but I believe we should give them a trial and if they prove ineffective they can easily be changed." He told how these measures were established in Germany and other European countries, and said that many of the large corporations in this country had adopted pension systems for their employes. In the discussion of the subject Mrs. Edward Mandel, of New York, said she was opposed to taxing those who are industrious and frugal for the support of the thriftless, improvident and indolent classes.

Joseph W. Brooke, of Baltimore, discussing the care of unfortunate families, said the family on the verge of independence needs more attention than the family with starvation staring it in the face. He suggested as a remedy for unfortunate families their removal from their old environments and associations, thereby many times removing temptations.

Rector Barnabas, of the Lincoln Agricultural School at Lincolndale, N. Y., told the conference that many friendless boys taken off of the streets of New York city and placed on the farm had become efficient and useful men on the farms in New York State.

OPEN AIR SCHOOLS GROW FAST.

Increase From 1 to 200 in Five Years. Tuberculosis.

New York, Sept. 21. — With the opening of the Fall school term, over 200 open air schools and fresh air classes for tuberculous and anaemic children, and also for all children in certain rooms and grades, will be in operation in various parts of the United States, according to a statement published today by The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

All of these schools, the association says, have been established since January, 1907, when the first institution of this character was opened in Providence, R. I. On January 1st, 1910, there were only 13 open air schools in this country and a year later the number had increased only to 29. Thus, the real growth in this movement has been within the last two years.

Massachusetts now leads the States with 80 fresh air schools and classes for tuberculous, anaemic and other school children, Boston alone having over eight. New York comes next with 29, and Ohio is third with 21. Open air schools have now been established in nearly 50 cities in 19 different States.

Based on figures of population and mortality furnished by the United States Bureau of the Census, it is estimated that not less than 100,000 children now in school in the United States will die of tuberculosis before they are eighteen years of age, or that about 7,000 of these children die annually from this one disease. Estimating that on an average each child who dies from tuberculosis has had six years of schooling, the aggregate loss to this country in wasted education each year amounts to well over $1,000,000.

SENATOR SIMMONS IN ANSON

Delivers Two Speeches to Large Audiences and Answers Some Attacks on His Record—A Fine Impression.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wadesboro, N. C., Sept. 24.—Senator Simmons spoke today at Morven to an enthusiastic audience of at least 500 people. The engagement was made by his friends here when it was learned that he was coming to Anson today to speak. He explained that since the engagement at Morven was made by his friends and not by the State Executive Committee, he felt at liberty to answer some charges that had been made against him and did this more than in any other of his speeches except the Charlotte speech.

He said he was not running from his record, but depending upon it for his re-election. He declared that he would not attack the public record of any Democrat holding high office under the party; that he would not charge that the Democratic convention was packed or that the Democratic executive committee was composed of prejudiced men. In this connection he pointed to the fatal split in the Republican party at present. He referred to the campaign of 1908 when only one candidate was criticised and abused from one end of the State to the other and said he himself was this year the only candidate being criticised, but rejoiced that when the exigencies of the campaign are over, then he would get back his character and those who say mean things of him will regret the course they pursued.

Speaking of the Payne-Aldrich tariff measure of 1909, Mr. Simmons said that he voted against everyone of the 3,000 items in that bill except 13, which concerned Southern products and that on these he voted to reduce the tariff duty about 35 per cent. He was unwilling to sit there and see a protective duty placed upon every product made in the North while Southern products were placed on the free list, making the South a hewer of wood and drawer of water as it has been for 50 years. Democracy, he said, stood for equal taxation and not for the unequal plan for which men like Aldrich have worked. He said the 7 per cent. duty on lumber did not recoup the lumbermen for the tariff placed by the Payne-Aldrich act on saw mill machinery used in the manufacture of lumber. This 7 per cent. is not a protective duty, but has been the best paying revenue duty on the list. If it is protective, then every Democrat in the Senate and House voted for protective duties more than four times as great when the 40 per cent. duty was placed on wool.

Why do not the tariff reformers throw the lasso around the necks of Congressmen Small, Thomas, Godwin, Pou, Webb, Page, and other Southern Representatives who voted on lumber as Simmons voted? He mentioned the fact that Tillman, Bacon, Martin and the late Senator Daniels, of Virginia, voted as he did on this question, yet they have all been nominated by their people since that vote. He said that since he had cast that vote the Democrats of the Senate made him the leader on the Democratic side of the committee to investigate the relation of the tariff and trust on high prices while Smoot and Lodge represented the Republicans. He was the man selected to answer on the floor of the Senate the majority report made by these Republicans. Then again, when the Democratic House had prepared a number of tariff bills and sent them to the Senate Simmons was the man they selected to lead the fight for the passage of these bills. These should prove his Democracy. At this time it was thought impossible to line up the progressive Democrats and Republicans to pass these bills and the difficult task was given to their Senior Senator from North Carolina.

In voting the 19 votes against the majority of the Democratic party he declared that he also voted at the same time against a majority of the Republican party. He declared that they were not protection votes, but for lower duties on the products bought by the farmers. If the other Senatorial candidates will explain what those 19 votes were for, then he said his majority would be greater than ever. The Senator explained these votes to the full satisfaction of his large audience. Many were heard to say after the speech that they knew he could answer the criticism. He said he voted one time one way on the Lorimer question and the other way next time and voted right each time. He voted to re-open the case after the first investigation and when all the evidence was in, voted against Lorimer.

There was much applause during the speech which lasted more than two hours. He had the crowd with him to the end and when several times he started to quit, they yelled "go on, we are enjoying it." He paid glowing tributes to Wilson and Craig and said now was the time for the Republican come-back. "Who is your cancidate?" he asked, declaring that he did know whether it was an elephant or a bull moose.

The Senator speaks in Albemarle tomorrow and is speaking in the Court House here tonight to a large audience along the same lines as his speech this afternoon.

KINSTON GLEANINGS

Bad Negro Arrested — Lightning's Freak—Col. Z. P. Smith

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 24.—Joe Bunting, a young negro, was taken by the police in South Kinston, and was carried to Plymouth by Sheriff Reed, of Washington county. Bunting was surprised by the officers in a resort. His appearance was noted by a patrolman on the street, and he was tracked to the house. Bunting was arrested upon the request of the Washington county authorities, for a serious assault upon young John Kearney, a Snow Hill man, on an excursion train to Norfolk last week. The affair, which was of the nature of a free-for-all affray, occurred in Washington county, 20 miles from Edenton. Kearney was badly cut on the forehead, cheek and arm, and had to be taken from the train at Edenton for medical aid.

Kearney, the victim of the assault, is rapidly recovering from his wounds. There is a rumor that his family will bring suit against the Norfolk Southern Company, but this is not verified.

Lightning damaged the home of Zeo B. Jones, a prominent Greene county man, to the extent of several hundred dollars, in a freakish manner. A bolt struck the chimney of the house, ran down its side, around the house, and up to the roof, tearing it off entirely, and through the rooms. Mrs. Jones with her eight-months-old baby was sitting in the door, and both were stunned, but otherwise uninjured. The lightning killed fowls in the yard promiscuously, tore off shingles and timbers from the roof and threw them a distance of 50 yards, scorched the sills under the house, and queerest of all, melted every particle of quicksilver from the back of a bureau mirror, leaving the mirror and bureau without a scratch otherwise. Beds in one room were moved from next the walls to the center of the floor, but undamaged. Mrs. Jones quickly recovered from the shock, but the infant did not come to until 12 hours later, after the family had spent a sleepless night with the little one. Neither mother nor child seemed to be any the worse for their strange experience, the baby being as bright as ever after regaining consciousness.

Maj. Z. P. Smith, well-known in insurance, railroad, newspaper and fraternal circles throughout the State, will become supervisor of agencies for the North State Life Insurance Company, of this city. Major Smith made the fact known in a statement yesterday. He has been connected with the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, the Equitable and other life insurance companies, was prominent in the head councils of secret orders, and several years ago was editor of the Greensboro News. He is on the brigade staff of the North Carolina National Guard and is one of the best known figures in that organization. Major Smith's duties as supervisor of agencies for the North State will take him through several States in which the company operates. He will not move his family to this city for some time yet.

Hon. C. C. Daniels, of Wilson, will address the citizens of Lenoir county Friday, October 4th, at LaGrange at 11 A. M. and at Kinston at night.

NO REAL COMPETITION.

This is Evidence Brought Out at Oil Trust Hearing.

New York, Sept. 24.—The Standard Oil Company of New York does not consider it good business policy to compete with the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey in the latter's territory as regards the sale of naptha, at any rate. Testimony to this effect was adduced today at the resumption of the hearings in the Standard Oil-Water Pierce litigation, Joseph H. Howell, city sales manager for the Standard Oil Company of New York, testified that the retail price of naptha in the city was 16 cents as against 18 1-2 cents in New York. Notwithstanding this, he added, his company did not deem it expedient to invade New Jersey.

It has been the aim of the Waters-Pierce lawyers to show that former trusts have not served the spirit of the Supreme Court dissolution decree and there is no real competition between its former subsidiaries.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 24.—The reserve naval torpedo flotilla, bound from Charleston, S. C., to join the naval rendezvous at New York, arrived today at the Norfolk Navy Yard, just ahead of the severe storm sweeping this coast. The little vessels, here for a "brushing up," prior to sailing for New York, are the Stockton, Tingey, Thornton, Shubrick, DeLong, Dahlgren, Craven and McDonough. All are torpedo boats except the McDonough, a destroyer.

PLENTY OF PROOF

From People You Know—From Wilmington Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced by evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Wilmington, of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it:

Mrs. W. W. Mince, 712 Vollers st., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I am very thankful to Doan's Kidney Pills for the great benefit I received from their use. For a long time kidney trouble clung to me and I was caused great annoyance by the kidney secretions. My back ached and I did not seem able to get a minute's peace. Some days I was hardly able to move around to attend to my work. At last I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from Bellamy's Drug Store and they restored me to good health." (Statement given February 24, 1908.)

ENDORSES DOAN'S AGAIN.

Mrs. Mince was interviewed on December 27, 1910, and she said: "I can still speak highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and recommend them as being good for kidney trouble. During the past two years I have taken this remedy and it always has a prompt and beneficial effect."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

TO PREVENT HYDROPHOBIA

Means Suggested to Make Man Immune From Rabies of Dogs

Washington, Sept. 24.—Suggestion of a means which may give to man an absolute immunity from rabies of dogs, without reference to the time elapsed after being bitten, was offered by Dr. J. L. Harris, City Bacteriologist and Pathologist of St. Louis, Missouri, in a paper read today before the 15th International Congress on Hygiene and Demography.

Giving a summary of his own work, Dr. Harris described a series of experiments with dogs and rabbits by which immediate and direct immunization against rabies was secured by the injection of fractional parts of a grain of non-infective rabies virus of a special type, of virus produced from the brain of a dog, dead of rabies, frozen with carbondioxide, snow dried in a vacuum at a very low temperature and kept in an ice box.

In a paper on diseases and injuries occurring in electric plants, Dr. J. D. McGowan, surgeon of the Commonwealth Edison Co., of Chicago, Ill., declared that the popular impression shared with the laity by many physicians that contact with electric current caused paralysis and brain lesions, was an erroneous one. Dr. McGowan said he had seen hundreds of cases of shock, and where the man did not meet immediate death there never had ben a case in which the patient suffered in any way outside of local effect of the burns.

A plea for an efficient supply and exhaust circulation of air for seamen on a man-of-war in time of battle was made by Surgeon R. C. Holcomb, U. S. N. In part, Dr. Holcomb said:

"A ship in time of peace, at which time the hatches are open, is a much different problem in ventilation than a ship with its hatches battened down ready to enter into battle.

"In peace time the air that is forced into a compartment finds a ready exit through the open hatches. When all hatches are closed, on the other hand, and air is forced in, it is at first slightly compressed and then ceases to be delivered."

Dr. Holcomb recommended that attention be directed toward the reduction of steam-driven machinery and the substitution of electrically-driven machinery.

London, Sept. 24.—A match for the sculling championship of the world is to be rowed on October 14th on the Thames, betwen Ernest Barry, the holder of the title, and Edward Hanlan Durnan, of Toronto, the champion sculler of America.

A WONDERFUL EXPERIENCE

With Newbro's Herpicide

While there are no thrills in the narration of Mrs. P. T. Nichols, 623 Broad St., Beloit, Wis., her story is nevertheless one of amazing interest: "Stricken with neuralgia and erysipelas, I lost all my hair. My doctor recommended Newbro's Herpicide. I used six or eight bottles and now have a fine head of slightly curly light brown hair. Not a gray hair in my head. This is the more remarkable as I am middle-aged."

While the results which follow the use of Newbro's Herpicide are always more or less astonishing, they are always natural. Herpicide destroys the dandruff germ, stimulates the flow of blood to the hair follicles and keeps the scalp perfectly healthy. It makes possible a natural and luxuriant growth of hair, except in cases of chronic baldness.

While remedies said to be "every bit as good" as Newbro's Herpicide are frequently offered, one should insist upon having the original germ destroyer, Herpicide. That is genuine. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

For sale at all drug stores. One dollar size bottles are guaranteed. Applications may be obtained at good barber shops. Send 10c in postage for sample to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Sunny Jim Sherman is not feeling well. Another sign.

The man in the moon is about the only one who views the situation with calmness.

All men who are out speaking for the Democratic cause evidently are Democrats.

The man who is out in his moth-ball suit can have all the political argument to himself.

When there is nothing that can be said don't try to say anything. Take the cue from President Taft.

Wilson inserts it into 'em in such a way as to make 'em get personal. When a man runs out of argument he is bound to show it.

If the meek shall inherit the earth what's the matter with the man who is too full for utterance in the presence of his wife?

The man who is not standing at Armageddon is likely to be disdainfully regarded as a bandy-shanked, box-ankled, bone-headed, tripe-necked mollycoddle.

Speaking about being a rainbow chaser, National Republican Chairman Hilles goes after it with an electric bandwagon with axles as slick as greased lightning.

Always stand at the head of a mule which doesn't want to go the way you want him to go. The best way to argut with a mule is to look him in the eye. He will acknowledge the corn and give you credit for wisdom.

Woodrow Wilson refuses to bandy personalities with Roosevelt. The professor says he discusses measures, not men. Verily, the Bull Moose has butted into a man of self-poise who depends on his brains instead of his tongue.

Every man who has a job is tired having nothing left over after trying to pay expenses. He ought to vote like he feels. For one thing, he needs lower tariff taxes as a plain matter of self-interest contrary to any theory he may harbor.

To place a man in a false position by making him appear what he is not, or endeavor to make him say what he didn't say, is a prevarication adroitly veiled. When we are guilty of unmitigated misrepresentation under cover it constitutes a degree of downright ananiasism for which we do not boldly assume the responsibility. It is strange how many people are deceived by artists who can convert alabaster into ebony.

The Bull Moose says the proper thing to do with a Republican is to hit him with a club. Not so. The best way to treat every man is to give him credit for being as honest in his opinion as we are. The man who wants to wallop men who differ with him can be depended upon to lead a procession of biggots without gaining any recruits. Give a Republican a real Havana, and politely ask him to ride with you on the Wilson bandwagon. Teddy's club—Nit!

Gaby Deslys, who caused King Manuel, of Portugal, to lose his head and vacate his throne, has been compelled to modify and tone down her role in her new act "Mdlle. Chick." In her act the Parisian danseuse, disrobes and jumps into bed. Because London would not stand for it, she complains bitterly that the great city is "Puritanized, provincial and even Quakerish." London can take that as a compliment, considering the fact that it comes from a person of Gaby's lack of approved conventionalities.

WILSON'S TARIFF INTERPRETATION.

Those who keep up with the clear and splendid exposition of the Democratic tariff policy as expounded by Governor Woodrow Wilson during this campaign, need not pay any attention to a lot of the tariff discussion that is not carried on in accordance with the party's platform declarations made at Baltimore.

A great deal is being said about the free list in North Carolina, whereas the Baltimore platform does not promise any free list, since, if the Democratic party wins on the 5th of November, it will be so interested in producing revenue for government purposes it will be cautious about taking the revenue off any product without close investigation. We hear some discussion about putting leaf tobacco on the free list. That would be a splendid idea for tobacco manufacturers, but in order to reach us who regale ourselves with Havana cigars and indulge in mastification of the weed, the tariff makers would have to put the manufactured article on the free list so as to bring about foreign competition. However, it is distinctly Republican to place raw material on the free list and protect manufactured products in order to enable manufacturers to monopolize the home market and make prices to suit themselves. Growers of leaf tobacco would be affected by free list, consumers would get no benefit, and Uncle Sam would not get a cent of revenue. That would be nice for the monopolistic manufacturers and it fully carries out the Republican free list idea of catering to special interests by cheapening raw materials and protecting factory products.

The Democratic idea of the tariff is precisely to the opposite of that, and the Baltimore platform admirably indicates the party's true position on tariff taxation. One of the clearest expounders of tariff-making that we have read after is Governor Woodrow Wilson, and his speeches during this campaign have emphasized the fact that the Democratic tariff policy is primarily to raise about a billion dollars in revenue needed for the government and to gradually reduce the tariff so equitably that no section and no interest shall be made to suffer by reason of exhorbitant duties or an ill-considered free list, both of which bear equally hard in their discrimination against producers and consumers when the Republican idea prevails.

Dr. Wilson is making it pretty clear that the Democratic party is not a free-trade party, because that would clearly indicate that the party had no capacity to finance with a view to keeping the Treasury from running dry. The Republican press is doing its best to create the impression that the Democratic party has entered upon a free-trade crusade and is not entitled to confidence as a business party capable of keeping up the revenues of the country. In one of his Pennsylvania speeches a few days ago the level-headed Wilson showed up this tommy-rot and gave the alarmists to understand that the Democratic party was not fool enough to adopt an economic policy that would be economic suicide.

The fact is, the Democratic party wants to restore this government to the people and it does not propose to get into power to be hustled right out for lack of capacity displayed in carrying out wild cat ideas concerning either tariff-making or the making of fatal free list mistakes that are as liable to benefit monopolists as they are to remotely affect the masses, if at all. We hear more free-list talk in North Carolina than anywhere else, but consumers, producers and manufacturers should not be deceived into the idea that the free-list proposition is either entirely Democratic or entirely defensible. Especially that kind of free list which enables the Steel Trust to get imported ore free of revenue for the government while the finishd product it makes from such ores are highly protected and sold in a home market which it absolutely monopolizes.

People of all parties can best be assured that the Democratic party has a good working equilibrator and they need not take seriously any irresponsible talk about the free list as a test of Democracy. It isn't, and therefore, it is not mentioned in the Democratic platform adopted at Baltimore as the party's present declaration of policy as near as it can be carried out with good judgment, according to conditions prevailing when President Wilson and his Congress begin to do business after the 4th of next March.

CONTROL OF PRICES.

High price are galling to consumers and they will be one of the principal issues in this campaign. Who makes the prices, and what makes them so high that a man feels outraged when he wants to purchase all kinds of food supplies? Of course, there are various answers to these questions, and as to the price of butter, the Baltimore Sun has this to say:

"An aggrieved butter dealer of this city takes us to task for the comment in this column yesterday upon the increase in the price of that product of the churn. Producing the figures for several years back he showed that there is always a seasonal increase, from August to September, and that the average is much higher than the two cents' increase of this year. He further objects to the practice of the newspapers of always quoting Elgin prices when referring to the price of butter, and asserts that the high-grade butter dealers of Baltimore, in order to secure a product acceptable to their customers, are obliged to pay higher than Elgin prices. Those prices, therefore, he claims, form no proper basis of comparison with the retail prices in this city. We are inclined to think that his complaint is well founded; in any event, such culpability as exists in connection with the high price of butter cannot be attached to the local dealers. The Sun's object in mentioning such matters is simply to direct attention to and stmulate discussion of the high cost of living, with the hope that ths may eventually lighten somewhat the burden of that much harassed man, the consumer. That the dealer has his troubles, also, we have no doubt. Our sympathies go out to him, too, and we certainly would not intentionally add to his vexations by any misrepresentation, actual or implied, of the facts of the case."

The tariff, the law of supply and demand, combinations and trusts, and all that go to make high prices in various products, but we should think that butter would be one product which could not be so controlled as to place it in the hands of a monopoly. It is not, as a matter of fact, but all the same the Elgin board has a great deal to do with the price. It controls so much of the merchantable supply, that it can fix prices and it sets the pace for butter of all kinds and for buttermakers generally. Nobody is going to sell butter at less than the prices fixed in the leading markets, and so all butter makers are controlled by the prevailing price.

However, the main reason why butter is high in the South is because we do not produce our own supply. We have abandoned cattle raising and butter making and we depend upon the North and West. We could bring about a solution of prices here at home if we would, but nobody who makes butter would want to sell it just to reduce the price. However, while there is money in it we ought to go into the dairy business, and even if the price does remain high we will keep our money at home. Good prices and paying dairies would greatly develop one of North Carolina's resources, and while good prices prevail we ought to go into the business in order to share in the profit. At any rate, we ought to keep our butter money at home by making better butter than we can buy and by making more butter to supply a demand that is not half met by all the dairies in the United States. It would be years before the market could be seriously affected by production.

SYMPATHY FOR SETTLE.

The Hon. Thomas Settle, the Taft Republican nominee for Governor of North Carolina, is grieved if not peeved. He was anxious to have a joint discussion of "the issues of the campaign" between himself and the Hon Locke Craig, the Democratic nominee. The Republican nominee addressed a challenge to Mr. Craig some days ago and Mr. Craig replied, deferring the matter of acceptance to the Democratic State Committee. The committee, at its recent Raleigh meeting, adopted a resolution declining to accept the challenge for its nominee, and Mr. Settle was so notified and was sent a copy of the resolution. Mr. Settle was disappointed and he has voiced his disappointment in an open letter to Mr. Craig, with whom he remonstrates to the extent of more than a column in Tuesday's Charlotte Observer. The Observer makes this editorial comment thereupon:

"We print today a letter from Mr. Thomas Settle to Mr. Locke Craig, in which the former gentleman deplores the impossibility of securing a joint debate with the latter, at the expense of the State Democratic organization. Mr. Settle has the sympathy of The Observer, for there can be no question about the fact that a debate such as was proposed would be worth going miles to hear, for it would be a meeting of two masters of oratory and of two past masters in argumentative warfare, but Mr. Craig would be extending too much of a courtesy. And besides, it would not be a brave act in a man so well fortified with issues as is Mr. Craig, to meet a man of but a single plank, as Mr. Settle admits is the extent of his equipment. The Democratic organization displays wisdom in keeping its powder house safe from a raid by Mr. Settle."

Mr. Settle wants Mr. Craig to reconsider and boldly banters him to agree to a joint canvass. However the Republican nominee confesses that the principal issue he wants to discuss is the local option plank adopted by the convention which nominated Mr. Settle at Charlotte. Nevertheless, it is taken for granted that Mr. Settle would enter upon a discussion of all the issues and he plainly intimates that he wants to jump all over the record of the Democrats in North Carolina.

As to accepting Mr. Settle's challenge, it has been urged that it would only get auditors for him where he would hardly attract more than a handful of the faithful. Mr. Settle's challenge was declined, not because the Democrats feared a joint discussion of the issues, but because no good reason existed for such a canvass.

Mr. Settle's principal plank is local option and to accept his challenge would make the Democrats agree to make that an issue in this campaign. It is not an issue now, for it is a moral question and not a political one, so what would be the use of discussing a question not at all involved in either the National or the State campaign?

The local option question is one which must be considered outside of political lines. The Prohibition question was presented in that manner and both Democrats and Republicans lined up on both sides of the question. To repeal the prohibition act the same process would have to be followed, for the question is not one for the Republican party nor the Democratic party to settle by itself.

There isn't any reason why every man should not be perfectly frank and candid if he is honest. The man who misrepresents a condition or situation because he is a partisan not trustworthy. A Bull Mooser who would say that Roosevelt s going to carry Texas, or a special interest advocate who would hand it out that Taft is going to carry North Carolina, would utter absurdities not worthy of a moment's notice. Yet because a man is for this candidate or that candidate, he says his candidate is going to carry the county, when the partisan knows better. That is, unless he is like the man who contracted to sell a carload of bull frogs for future delivery, based entirely upon the noise made by a dozen big frogs. He was honest, but was deceived by the volume of noise made every night at his millpond.

It is mentioned that Tammany has ignored Senator O'Gorman in selecting State convention delegates from the Assembly District in which the Senator resides. We refuse to be even a wee bit surprised. If O'Gorman were appointing delegates he would not appoint Charles F. Murphy. We never should expect a favor from those to whom we have handed a lemon or a ho' tamale. We never should show signs of disappointment when the expected happens. Except a man be more generous and charitable than a cold-blooded and narrow-minded politician, it is always safe to expect the cold shoulder when we have dangled a set of cold feet all around the other fellow.

Twelve thousand Democrats in South Carolina have contributed to the National Democratic campaign fund. When we don't set the pace let us acknowledge it when a good example is set. Come right on to The Star office with your money argument for Wilson. Take at least a dollar's worth of stock in a Democratic victory. The time grows shorter and shorter!

CURRENT COMMENT.

The interurban in co-operation with the Charlotte Merchants' Association, has arranged for special shippers' rates September 25th and 26th. Why not have the same arrangement over the Seaboard and Southern? The people of other sections should be given the opportunity of attending the openings of the Charlotte dry goods stores. —Charlotte Chronicle.

The estrangement between "Will" and "Theodore" has reached a point where "Theodore's" campaign manager accuses "Will's" campaign manager of setting detectives to shadow him; worse still, "Theodore's" manager charges that the detectives tapped his wires and actually overheard a conversation between himself and one of "Theodore's" chief backers, Mr. McCormick.—Raleigh Times.

The Hon. Tom keeps on seeking a joint debate with Locke Craigg Democratic nominee for Governor. Very properly Mr. Craig acts on the advice of the Democratic State Executive Committee and declines. If Mr. Settle must talk why there is Iredell Meares, nominee of the greater faction of the Republicans, and Mr Settle might see what he thinks of a joint debate.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The analogy between the executive board through which Col. Roosevelt proposes to have the big trusts controlled and the cry of the early McKinley days, "Let the tariff be revised by its friends!" is so striking that it is odd it doesn't appeal to those Kansans who anathematize the trusts for three and a half years out of every four and yell themselves hoarse for trust candidates the other six months.—New York World.

"Every State in the Union," says ex-Governor Glenn to a Birmingham News reporter, "needs two strong parties, in my opinion; for the domination of any one party breeds arrogance and opens the way to corruption. My own State has two good clean parties, and we have greatly benefitted thereby." The domination of any one party generates intolerable evils besides the vices mentioned, as evidenced by South Carolina's plight. In North Carolina we should be most profoundly thankful that we are not a one-party State.—Charlotte Observer.

The Rochester Democrat and Chronicle says the most startling news regarding the aeroplane which has come to hand is that the important maneuvers of the British army have been brought to a close, owing to the discovery that scouting by aeroplane had rendered army maneuvers useless. In a moot attack and defense of the city of London both armies were provided with aeroplanes. Reports from the sky pilots were promptly signaled to headquarters, the result being that the opposing armies were placed in a position where a battle at close range was inevitable. With assured stability it is possible that the aeroplane would make war so destructive that peace would become a necessity to the preservation of nations. — Greensboro News.

"THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET."

Attorney General Bickett Certain That Mistake Has Been Made.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 24.—Following the interview in this correspondence yesterday with Attorney General Bickett with reference to the State Committee's construction of "Democratic ticket", that prominent State official stated today that he was more than ever impressed with the correctness of his position and that this opinion is shared by a very large number of leading Democrats all over the State. Attorney General Bickett is just back from a campaign trip in the West and says the action of the committee will cost hundreds of votes in the State. A suggestion today from a leading Democrat of the eastern part of the State met with his hearty approval. He would make this a condition to voting in the Senatorial primary: "The voter must vote only for nominees of the Democratic party." This, it appeared to Mr. Bickett, would cover the ground fully and satisfactorily to all.

DR. FEW'S ANNUAL ADDRESS.

Heard With Much Interest and Profit on Sunday Evening.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., Sept. 23.—Dr. William Preston Few delivered the annual president's address to the students of Trinity College in the Craven Memorial Hall Sunday evening. In addition to the great number of students present a goodly number of townspeople turned out, filling the hall to the extent of its seating capacity. Dr. Few spoke on the opportunity of youth, taking his text from the Hebrew prophet, Joel's words "Your old men shall dream dreams, and your young men see visions."

FALL WORK AT BOYS' BRIGADE

Physical Department Promises Great Things This Season—Religious Features—First Sunday Afternoon Meeting.

Members of the Boys' Brigade are looking forward to next Tuesday when the formal opening of the Fall and Winter's work will be inaugurated. The beginning will be in the physical department, the feature being a gymnasium class.

The regular schedule will then be introduced, this being classes for young men on Tuesday and Saturday nights at 8 o'clock, business men Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons at 6 o'clock, and daily at 1 o'clock. Boys, Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons at 3:15. Thursday night will be an open night for general exercises and games. Wednesday and Friday nights will be used for regular league games of basket ball as was done last Winter. The class on Tuesday night will be in charge of Mr. J. B. Huntington and the opening will be conducted by him next Tuesday. The other classes and basket ball will be under the personal supervision of Mr. Dushan. The past three seasons have shown a steady increase in the interest in the gymnasium and other features of the physical department under Mr. Dushan and this season is expected to eclipse all others as the enthusiasm is very keen and general among the men and boys of the Brigade and every night will witness something going on in the gymnasium. Basketball will be more popular than ever this Winter and more men and boys will be playing than ever before. It is proposed to have three leagues composed of the older and more experienced players, another of the younger or newer players, and a third of the boys. Company A team and that of Company B will play together this Winter instead of being distributed on the other teams as in the past and two other strong teams will be formed of the balance of the men, many of whom are splendid players.

The games by these teams will be played on Friday nights. The other or class B league, will be composed of players who have not yet developed their knowledge of the game sufficiently to permit them to play with the older players and this league will form a kind of training for them to fit them for faster company when they will be drafted into the big league. As many of these youngsters are speedy on their feet and quick thinkers they will not remain in the younger company long as they will soon make the veterans hustle to keep ahead. The regular games will not begin until about October 16th, or later. These games will be open to the public. The boys promise also to put up some good games and as these little fellows are ardent devotees of this sport they will show all the fancy stunts known and then some. If one may judge from their work of last season what they are going to do this season it may be safely predicted that some of the best playing of their history will be presented. They will play after their gymnasium classes. Their league will be composed of four teams.

The first Sunday afternoon meeting for men will be held on Sunday afternoon, October 6th, when W. P. Stacy, Esq., will be the speaker. This is a splendid selection as there is not a more eloquent or more earnest speaker in the city than this gifted young member of the local bar. Mr. Stacy is a young man with a message to young men which never fails to reach and stimulate them to higher and better things. He is a great favorite with the young men of the Brigade and they will hear him gladly. The invitation to this meeting includes any man in the city who cares to attend.

On Monay night, October 7th, Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells will resume his Bible lectures, which have proven so helpful to the Brigade men during the past two Winters. This is one feature of the work of the Brigade to which the members are looking forward with keen pleasure as this is one of the most helpful features of the religious work of the institution. Immediately after this lecture the regular business meeting of the companies will occur and every member is requested to be present on this occasion. The Winter's programme of social and educational events will be announced later.

Holders of lyceum course tickets will be pleased to learn that the dates of the attractions have been submitted by the Radcliffe Lyceum Bureau and are as follows: October 22nd, Metropolitan Concert Co.; November 29th, Litchfield Trio; January 16th, Ernest Gamble Concert Co.; February 6th, The Sprague's in Rip Van Winkle; February 14th, Commonwealth Male Quartette; March 25th, Fellows' Opera Singers. There is not a bad date among this entire list as all fall on either Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday or Friday. None on Saturday. The tickets for this course have all been sold and it is not intended to sell any single admission seats, as the capacity of the hall will not permit of this being done. Mr. Dushan received a letter from Mr. W. L. Radcliffe recently in which he said that this year's course was the strongest ever sent by his bureau to the South, and this means that it is one of the strongest.

FUNERAL OF MRS. NORTHROP.

Services Held From the First Presbyterian Church Yesterday.

The funeral of Mrs. Alice Middleton Fillyaw Northrop, the beloved wife of Capt. Wm. H. Northrop, Sr., whose death occurred Monday morning, was held at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the First Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor. A large concourse of relatives and friends were present and there were many beautiful floral designs. Following the services at the church the body was tenderly borne to Oakdale cemetery, where the interment took place. The pall-bearers were honorary, Messrs. H. C. McQueen and W. A. Dick; active, Messrs. Joseph H. Watters, R. C. DeRosset, W. L. Rosset, W. N. Harriss, W. M. Cumming and Joseph W. Yates.

PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED

Washout Near Verona Caused Serious Accident on W. & N.—Engineer Eugene S. Knight Slightly Injured

Atlantic Coast Line passenger train No. 64, Wilmington to Newbern, leaving here at 5:50 A. M., was wrecked at 7:35 o'clock yesterday morning at Southwest creek, between Verona and Jacksonville, as a result of a washout caused by the heavy rains of the past few days. The engine turned over on its side and was submerged in the water, the combination baggage, mail and second-class passenger car was derailed, while the first-class passenger coach on the rear of the train remained on the tracks.

Engineer Eugene S. Knight, of Wilmington, and his fireman, General Green, colored, jumped in time to escape serious injury, but not until after the brave engineer had reversed his engine and brought his train to a speed of not exceeding 15 miles an hour.

Engineer Knight and his fireman jumped in the nick of time for the train had not run 10 feet further before the engine was overturned and submerged in the water. And had it not been for the quick word and fine judgment of the engineer it is very probable that many passengers would have been killed or seriously injured. As it was the passengers escaped without a scratch,those in the rear coach not even receiving a jolt when the engine and first car left the tracks.

There is a sharp curve in the tracks just this side of the washout and it was not until after the train had rounded the bend that Engineer Knight observed the tracks covered with a sheet of water extending for a distance of probably 800 yards. He immediately applied his emergency brakes, which failed to work. He then reversed his engine as quickly as possible. As the engine ran onto that portion of the track covered by water both Engineer Knight and his fireman realized that they had done all they could do and that in order to save themselves it would be necessary for them to jump. They had a few seconds in which to plan and they worked rapidly. Both got down on the lower steps leading from the cab on their respective sides before making the leap. Engineer Knight sighted a cross-tie which floated on his side of the train only a few feet away. Letting himself down as low as possible he turned loose his grip on the hand-hold of the engine and dropped sidewise onto the cross-tie. He was bruised about the right shoulder, right side and right hip and while he will feel the soreness for several days, he is not seriously injured. The negro fireman received a few bruises, but like Mr. Knight was not badly hurt.

Passengers rushed out to the assistance of the engineer and fireman. They were taken inside the passenger coach and made as comfortable as possible. A messenger was sent to Verona, three miles this side of the accident, to notify the dispatcher in Wilmington. The telephone there is said to have been out of order and it is reported that it was necessary for the messenger to come on to Dixon, six miles further, where there is a telegraph office. The passengers remained at the scene of the wreck until the arrival about noon of a freight train engine which pulled the passenger coach to Verona. There, it was stated, that a message had been received from Wilmington directing that the passengers bound for Newbern might be taken across the flooded district by boat at 2 o'clock to connect on the other side with a train from Newbern and that those who desired might return to Wilmington. Some of the passengers returned to Wilmington, arriving at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, while others remained at Verona expecting to be taken over on a boat. However, later in the afternoon it was found that this could not be done and the remaining passengers were brought back to Wilmington on the train leaving here at 3:25 P. M. for Newbern, arriving on the return a few minutes before 7 o'clock. Some of the passengers left on the 7 o'clock train on the W. & W. train for Newbern.

Engineer Knight was brought here on the first train and taken to his home, No. 706 North Third street, where he was attended by Dr. William Houston Moore, who pronounced his injuries as not serious. The negro was attended by Dr. E. S. Bullock.

It was stated at the office of the superintendent of the A. C. L., that the track was under water for a distance of about 800 yards and ranging in depth from two to four feet. The road bed was completely undermined, crossties being washed away and the rails bent and twisted. It was stated at the dispatcher's office last night that the water was falling rapidly and that it was hoped to be able to begin the repair work today. Just how long it will take to repair the damage could not be told last night, on account of the fact that the track was still submerged in water.

There was a report current at the scene of the wreck that flooding of the track was caused partly by the opening of floodgates of mill dams by persons owning mill ponds because they feared the dams would burst under the strain of the water from the heavy rains. However, railroad officials here did not know anything of this report when questioned last night.

Among the passengers on the ill-fated train was Mr. John R. Turrentine, Jr., who was on his way to Mayesville, about 25 miles beyond the wreck, to accompany his daughter, little Miss Annie Turrentine home. T he young lady is ill and it is feared that she has fever. Mr. Turrentine received a telegram last night stating that his daughter was some better. eH hopes to get through to Mayesville today.

That trouble never comes single-handed was emphasized by the fact that traffic on the A. & Y. branch also was seriously interferred with. On account of a serious washout between Roseboro and Autryville, no trains could be operated between these points, consequently there were no through trains on this branch yesterday. The distance between the two points is about four miles. A large force of hands was put to work early yesterday to repair the damage and it was stated last night that it was hoped to have the track in condition for traffic by 1 or 2 o'clock this morning.

NOW READY FOR ARGUMENT

Holly Case Will Go to Jury at Burgaw Today—Many Witnesses Yesterday, But Little New Testimony.

A large number of witnesses and others, who have been at Burgaw the past two days in attendance upon the Holly murder trial, returned to the city on the train from the North at 1 o'clock this morning, the testimony in the case having been completed at 10:30 o'clock last night in the Superior Court of Pender, to which county the case was removed after two unsuccessful trials in New Hanover.

Great progress was made in the case yesterday and a large number of witnesses were heard. The State had completed its case about 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon and after the introduction of a number of character witnesses in behalf of Holly a recess was taken for supper at 7 o'clock, Judge Carter convening the first night session an hour later. The witnesses yesterday gave little evidence that was new from the former trials and it is freely predicted in and around the court room at Burgaw that a verdict of acquittal will result; in other words, the opinion is that the element of doubt is so strong that the jury will not convict on the evidence adduced. The character witnesses all gave the defendant a good name in the community prior to the time of the fire. Holly was in court all day and manifested keen interest in the proceedings, though apparently remaining confident of his acquittal. The interest in the trial is great and large numbers of people are attending.

This morning promptly at 9:30 o'clock the argument of the attorneys to the jury will begin and it is confidently predicted that this will be completed in time for the case to go to the jury before nightfall. A verdict is expected either tonight or certainly some time during Thursday, much more rapid progress having been made yesterday than was at first anticipated.

Upon the re-convening of court at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, Dr. W. D. MacMillan was recalled to state that he had taken the stomach of the boy and sent it under proper care to the State chemist at Raleigh; he did not know if strychnine was contained in the alcohol in which the stomach was preserved. A. J. Marshall, Esq., of the Wilmington bar, corroborated Magistrate Harriss and Constable Savage as to Holly's statement that no one but God, the boy and he knew about the circumstances of the death. Fire Chief Chas. Schnibben had arrived in the meantime and was placed on the stand. He related the circumstances of the fire; told of the smell of kerosene and of having taken the stomach to Raleigh for analysis by the State chemist. State Chemist W. A. Withers told of making five tests for strychnine from the contents of the stomach. One-half of the contents of the stomach contained one-fifth of a grain of strychnine. This would make two-fifths of a grain in the entire stomach. William J. Bellamy, Esq., of counsel for the defense, presented a rigid cross-examination from questions drafted by City Chemist George Catlett, who may later be introduced as a witness for the defense. Mr. Bellamy quoted from several technical publications in submitting hypothetical questions to the witness. The State chemist was on the stand an hour and a half. H. E. Robbins, the insurance agent who wrote the policy on the life of Cromwell, stated that he had seen the boy the morning before the fire and he was well and apparently all right.

Dr. H. B. Thomas, of Burgaw, was introduced as a medical expert and testified as to the rigidity of the boy and answered a number of hypothetical questions. The cross-examination was by C. D. Weeks, Esq., of counsel for the defense.

The hour for dinner having arrived at 1:30, court took a recess until 3 o'clock in the afternoon when the star witness was Deputy State Insurance Commissioner W. A. Scott. Mr. Scott testified to practically the same facts as at the two former trials. His evidence brought out the shipment of defendant's furniture to some point near Goldsboro shortly before the fire. He was little shaken in a rigid cross-examination.

After the State had rested yesterday afternoon the defense first introduced its character witnesses and these were followed by two expert witnesses, Mr. George F. Catlett, city chemist for Wilmington, and Dr. Edward Jenner Wood, of Wilmington. Mr. Catlett testified as to the technical matters involved with reference to the analysis of the stomach and his testimony was regarded as a very vital to the defense.

Dr. Wood went on the stand at 9:30 o'clock as an expert, having been summoned on Monday night. He gave expert opinion as to the causes of death based on numerous hypothetical questions. He went into the details of the action of certain poisons, the minimum and maximum doses, the largest and smallest amounts required to produce death, etc. He also told of the time of onset of rigor mortis, its duration and variations. The question of burns, ante-mortem and post-mortem, were also thoroughly treated and given in detail. As Dr. Wood did not examine or see the body after death, all testimony, was of course, based upon the hypothetical questions, propounded by the attorneys representing both sides.

After the completion of Dr. Wood's testimony, the defense rested its case and shortly after 10 o'clock a recess was taken for the night, the argument of attorneys to begin first thing this morning.

Selling Beer Charged.

Charged with violating the prohibition law by selling to Mr. H. W. Konig two crates of beer for $21, John Meier, a well known young man, was arrested yesterday. He gave bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance before Justice Harriss for trial this morning. It is said that Meier was formerly in the employ of August Boecker and that it was while working for him that he sold the beer to Mr. Koenig.

FALL MILLINERY OPENINGS

Attractive Displays at Two Popular Wilmington Stores Yesterday—C. W. Polvogt Company and Platt & Haar.

The coming of gay Autumn and the near approach of sable Winter, found abundant reflection yesterday in the clearing of the skies and in the openings of two of Wilmington's favorite and popular dry goods and millinery establishments—the C. W. Polvogt Company and Messrs. Platt & Haar. Although the weather was not all that could be desired for an occasion of so much moment to the femininity of Wilmington and surrounding country, yet both openings were a decided success and for hours "troops and platoons" of ladies fared forth and at some hour during the day kneeled before the shrine of Beauty and Fashion and took their departures eminently well pleased and delighted with the annual showings at these establishments.

At the store of the C. W. Polvogt Co., on Front street, opposite the post-office, preparations for the opening had been going on some days in connection with the celebration of the 25th anniversary, but visitors to the store yesterday found these two events completely merged in one of the most brilliant expositions of Fall and Winter millinery, ladies' suits, coats and dresses that it has ever been the pleasure of Mr. Polvogt to lay before the critical eye of his patrons. The store had been artistically decorated and in each department there was a special and attractive showing of the newest fads and fancies. For the first time the large stock of imported and domestic pattern hats, new Fall suits, coats and dresses were attractively displayed and the ladies of Wilmington and neighboring towns and hamlets came out in goodly numbers to witness the display. It was pronounced as the grandest assortment ever shown in Wilmington, and superlatives were upon every lip in enthusiastic description of the season's shapes and styles.

The impression gained at Polvogt's was pleasing from the start. The large plate glass windows on either side of the two main entrances and the oval in the centre were filled with all the newest creations, most artistically arranged in endless variety with extreme good taste. The central window was effectively used with a large automatic model, beautifully and stylishly gowned, with an attractive bonnet that caught the eye of everyone. The other windows were devoteod to silks, ready-to-wear garments and other specialties that are presented in such variety this season at this store.

Within attentive salesmen and saleslad ies were busy as bees in showing all the new creations in their respective departments and while the visitor tarried here and there, it was soon seen that the cynosure of all eyes was the elegant millinery department in the balcony at the rear of this elegantly arranged store. Mrs. Helen Longwell is in charge of the millinery department this season and recently spent some time in the North selecting the very latest and the newest creations in all that Fashions has decreed this season will be the proper thing. The purchases this season were larger than ever and some of the niftiest offerings to be found anywhere may be gleaned from the Polvogt stock. Mrs. Longwell says that in millinery this season feathers will predominate and the selections in these have been much admired by everyone who has visited the store. The range of shapes is very wide and are well adapted to something "just suitable" for the contour of every face. There are the large flat effects and then the smart small ones with a variety of selections just in-between. Bright colors are all the go and cerese and fushia seem to predominate. To attempt description of the endless varieties of hats that will be worn this year would be futile. The Polvogt opening will continue through today with fresh arrival of stock and the ladies who for any reason could not attend the opening yesterday are cordially invited to do so. They will find not only the millinery attractive and pleasing to look upon, but in the coat sut department, at the dress goods counters, and, in fact, all over the store will be found something artistic and pleasing.

At Platt & Haar's.

The millinery department at Messrs. Platt & Haar's store is in charge of Mrs. C. W. Leighton, but in honor of the millinery display there is being made an opening day all over this popular establishment. The two large display windows in the store are a dream of beauty and the first impression of the visitor upon reaching the centre of all interest for the day was decidedly pleasing. Inside, the effect was none the less pleasing and the elegance and beauty was a brilliant reminder that on the other floors of the building the results attained were none the less agreeable. Mr. R. C. Platt, of the firm, recently returned from the North and on every hand was something stylish and novel to greet the eye and to tickle the fancy. The ready-to-wear department is especially strong this season and elicited many compliments from the admiring ladies who thronged the store during the day. In coat suits and ready-to-wear garments this season the rough effects seem to predominate and the stock seems to have reached the acme of style and graceful lines. The cut-away and Norfolk styles are proving especially popular here and elsewhere.

The Art Department of the store came in for no little share of attention. Presided over by Misses Stokley and Schonwald, every visitor was made to feel perfectly at ease while they reveled in all the new and novel effects for this season. Needle work of all the daintiest and most pleasing varieties were most attractively exhibited.

The millinery department in charge of Mrs. Leighton is simply charming and the ladies yesterday were profuse in their delight at the season's styles and shapes as reflected in this complete stock. Mrs. Leighton is authority for the statement that in millinery this year there are no hard and fast limits and that the individual taste may be suited perhaps within the confines of style better than ever before. The tricone, or Colonial style is strong, while in colors black and white will be favorites. Grey will also be popular and velour and velvet will be much worn.

The opening will be continued today and every department of this popular store extends a most cordial welcome to the ladies to come and see for themselves the wealth of new creations that Dame Fashion has to offer worshippers at her shrine for 1912.

NEGRO WOMAN SHOT

Hattie Haywood Target for Julius Hill Yesterday Morning

After an exciting chase of seven hours the police at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon rounded up Julius Hill, alias "Dude," colored, wanted on a charge of assault on a female for shooting and seriously wounding Hattie Haywood, colored, at her home, No. 515 South 11th street, about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The negro told the officers that the pistol was accidentally discharged. He was lodged in the city prison to await the result of the woman's wound, which is not thought to be serious. She was shot in the back of the head just behind the ear. Soon after the shooting she was rushed to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where she is being given attention.

As soon as he shot the woman, either accidentally or purposely, whichever the case may be, Hill went to the home of the woman's sister, a short distance away, and told her that he had shot Mattie and that she might see about giving her medical attention. Hill then left. The police officers were soon on his trail and although only a short distance behind him several times during the afternoon only succeeded in locating him late in the afternoon. Sheriff Cowan and his deputies took part in the search soon after the shooting was reported.

A telephone message to police headquarters sent Officers Joe Lane, H. P. Merritt, H. G. Bullard and D. W. Coleman to the scene. They searched the city throughout the remainder of the day. There was no escape for the negro. Late in the afternoon Hill was seen by a negro man to enter a house at Eighth and Wright streets. Policeman W. C. Moore, who lives a short distance away, was notified. Policeman J. J. Moore was called and other officers notified. The house was surrounded by the police while one or two officers made a search of the house. They found the negro and sent him to the hall.

Hill was before the Recorder a few days ago on a charge of vagrancy, but he managed to get clear of the charge.

Views of New Hanover Roads.

When Chairman Duncan McEacheru, of the Board of County Commissioners, goes to Atlantic City, N. J., to attend the National Roads Congress, which meets there September 30th, to October 5th, he will take with him six large photographs showing fine views of the splendid roads of New Hanover county. The photographs were made by Mr. J. W. Buck, the well known outdoor photographer, at the instance of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Buck was accompanied on his trip to get the pictures by Mr. H. B. Branch, secretary of the Chamber. The photographs were delivered to the Chamber of Commerce yesterday and were on exhibition there.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Case Against Matthew Judge for Slander Continued Indefinitely.

In the Recorder's court yesterday morning the case against Matthew Judge, colored, charged with slandering Sadie M. White, the mulatto wife of Rev. Geo. L. White, pastor of St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church, some weeks ago, was continued indefinitely. The reason given was that an important witness for the prosecution is ill at her home in Newbern and it is not known just when she will be able to be present to testify. The case is one of the greatest interest among the colored people of the city on account of the prominence of the persons involved. The preliminary hearing before Justice Harriss in the Court House some weeks ago consumed the better part of two or three days and was attended by several hundred negroes. Both sides had counsel and the case was vigorously contested. The result was that the defendant was bound over to the Recorder's court. It has been continued for one reason or another. There is also a case against Judge for slandering another woman.

Popy, alias Daniel Copsey, colored, was called to answer a charge of assault and battery, but a nol pros with leave was taken. Henry Johnson, colored, was found not guilty of vagrancy, but in a case for violating the hitching ordinance he was required to pay the costs. John Evans, colored, who was drunk and disorderly on a suburban car coming up from the beach Monday night, was fined $5 and costs. James Cobb and James Young, both colored, contributed $5 each and costs for an affray.

WEDDING IN TWIN-CITY OF INTEREST LOCALLY.

The following account of the wedding in Winston-Salem of Mr. James Henry Warren, of this city, and Miss Lela Trivette, of Winston-Salem, from Monday's Winston-Salem Sentinel will be read with interest in this city:

"A quiet, but beautiful wedding was solemnized this morning at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride on Spring street, when Miss Lela Trivette was given in marriage to Mr. James Henry Warren, of Wilmington, N. C., Rev. G. T. Lumpkin officiating.

"The wedding was a very quiet affair, only a few of the bride's most intimate friends being present, and the announcement will no doubt come as a distinct surprise to her many friends.

"The couple entered the parlor, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion in white and yellow, to the strains of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, beautifully rendered by Miss Beula Trivette, sister of the bride.

"The bride was most becomingly attired in a going-away suit of dark brown with hat and gloves to match.

"Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Warren left on the 5:40 train for a bridal tour South. They will visit Tampa, Jacksonville, and other points South before returning to their home at Wilmington, where the groom holds a responsible position with the Atlantic Coast Line.

"Mr. Warren will be pleasantly remembered by many friends as having resided here a few years ago.

"The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mrs. Dorcas D. Trivette, and has resided here several years where she numbers her friends by the score. Their good wishes will follow her to her future home."

WOUND MAY BE FATAL.

Haywood Waters, Colored, Struck in Head With Iron Bucket.

Charged with assault with deadly weapon, to-wit: an iron bucket, on Haywood Waters, colored, Monday afternoon, hour and place unknown to the police, Bill Lee, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Policemen W. F. Craig and H. P. Merritt. Lee was committed to the city prison without bond pending the result of Waters' wound.

Yesterday afternoon Dm. Wm. H. Moore was called to attend Waters, who lives on 12th street, between Wooster and Dawson, and found him suffering with a contusion or fractured skull. He was in rather serious condition and like all cases of the kind the result cannot be determined for some days yet. He told Dr. Moore that he and Lee fell out Monday in course of a discussion on religious matters and that the latter struck him on the forehead with an iron bucket. Realizing that there was a probability that the wound would prove fatal, Dr. Moore notified the police. Upon this information Policeman E. L. Smith, officer in charge at the time, secured a warrant for Lee and it was served a few minutes later at the feed store of John S. McEachern Sons, where he is employed. Waters has also been employed by John S. McEachern Sons.

Girl Located at Marion.

Frank Tansel, colored, is to be given hearing before Justice Harriss today on a charge of kidnapping Noxie Williams, colored, the 13-year-old daughter of Lina Williams. The girl was located yesterday at Marion, S. C., in company with two other girls from Wilmington. The three of them were brought back here on the late train last night. Tansel was one of the leading performers at the Queen Theatre at Eighth and Queen streets and it was claimed by the mother of the girl that Tansel had kidnapped her daughter to send her away to join a vaudeville show.

Winchester, W. Va., Sept. 24.—Winchester voted itself "dry" today by an overwhelming majority, while the heavens fairly poured rain all during the day. The total vote cast was 749, and the majority registered in favor of the "drys" was 195. The women of the town held prayer services while the men went to the polls.

It just looks as if some people can't keep a straight face telling anything but the truth.

DIED FAR FROM HOME.

Resident of Memphis, Tenn., Succumbs to Illness While Here.

Particularly sad was the death at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, at The Orton Hotel, in this city, of Mr. Horace Elden Gould, aged 61 years, of Memphis, Tenn. Mr. Gould was a conductor on the 'Frisco System between Memphis, Tenn., and Birmingham, Ala., and some weeks ago started with his wife for a vacation they hoped to spend in Florida. En route South Mr. Gould became ill and decided to stop over at Wilmington. It was ascertained soon after his arrival here that he was suffering from a malignant attack of typhoid fever and he was sent to the James Walker Memorial Hospital where everything possible was done for his comfort. Lately he had shown signs of improvement and had returned to the hotel where he was being treated by Dr. Houston Moore, expecting in a short time to be able to resume his journey or to return home. Complications in his condition, however, ensued and his death came at the hour named yesterday morning in spite of all that could be done for him.

Mr. Gould was a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity, belonging to Parke Avenue Lodge 362, F. & A. M.; Eureka Council No. 6, R. & S. M.; Memphis Commandery, K. T., Tennessee Consistory No. 1, A. A. S. R., Chymia Temple A. A. O. & N. M. S. and Memphis division, O. R. C. While in Wilmington he was shown every courtesy by the three lodges of Masons and Mr. A. S. Holden, secretary of St. John's Lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M., accompanied the grief-stricken widow and the body to the home of the family at Memphis.

The Masonic Lodges of the city also furnished an escort from Brimmer's funeral parlors to the train yesterday afternoon, these being Messrs. L. W. Moore, L. O. Ellis, H. W. Colwell, H. P. Munson, W. A. McGirt and C. L. Meister.

CROOM MAY SURRENDER.

Reported That He Would Give Himself Up Some Time Today.

It was reported yesterday morning that C. T. Croom, who is wanted for the murder of Magistrate J. H. Sykes, a few weeks ago, would give himself up to Justice George Harriss today. When asked about the report last night Justice Harriss said that he had not heard anything direct from Croom, but that he felt certain he would come in and give himself up to him in a short time. It is reported that Croom has a horror of the jail and that it is the knowledge that he would be placed behind the bars that has caused him to evade the officers. The same report has it that he will surrender just preceding court here and that he will seek his freedom through habeas corpus proceedings or a speedy trial.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: John W. Capps and wife to Mary Capps, for $10 and other considerations, lot on south side of Market street, 90 feet east of 13th, 30x150 feet in size; by another deed the same property is transferred from D. L. T. Capps and wife to Edward T. Taylor, for $10 and other considerations; Solomon Sternberger and wife to J. Irving Bear, for $1,000 and other considerations, lot on south side of Orange street, 66 feet east of Seventh, 33x120 feet in size.

Lesson in Scientific Complexion Renewing

(From the Family Physician.)

Everyone has a beautiful skin underneath the one exposed to view. Bear that in mind and it will be easier to understand the correct principle in acquiring a lovely complexion. Nature is constantly shedding the top skin in flaky particles like dandruff, only much smaller in size. In abnormal conditions, or in advancing age, these particles are not shed as rapidly as in robust youth. The longer they remain the more soiled or faded they become—that's the immediate cause of a "bad complexion".

It has been discovered that ordinary mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store, will absorb these worn-out particles. The absorption, while hastening Nature's work, goes on gradually enough to cause no inconvenience. In a week or two the transformation is complete. The fresh, healthy-hued, youthful underskin is then wholly in evidence. You who are not satisfied with your complexions should get an ounce of mercolized wax and try this treatment. Use the wax nightly, like cold cream washing it off mornings.

..Theatrical..

For pure, wholesome fun, for laughter that will not be followed by the slightest tinge of regret for having brought your mother, sister, or sweetheart to see it, is "Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway," the Cohan musical success at the Academy today, matinee and night. Its sparkling comedy, its overflowing mirth, its pretty costumes and its excellent cast have combined to make it the most talked of play of the season. The marvelous chorus which does the wonderful dances which bring the audience to their feet with such swiftness and dash, still work with the same enthusiasm that has made these girls a revelation to the theare-goers who heretofore have been accustomed to the bored looking chorus girl. The musical numbers, "So Long Mary," "Mary is a Grand Old Name," "Popular Millionaire," and "Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway," receive encore after encore.

CLEVER BERT LEIGH

Star Comedian In "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway."

The matinee this afternoon will be especially popular. Reserved seats will be only 50 and 75 cents, while a child will be admitted to any part of the theatre for 25 cents. The night prices run to $1.50, and seats for both performances can be purchased at Plummer's.

"The Traveling Salesman."

The laughing success of the season, "The Traveling Salesman," by James Forbes, will be the offering at the Academy Friday night, on which date the original New York and Chicago production comes to this city.

The story of "The Traveling Salesman" concerns Bob Blake, a jovial, fat drummer, who is compelled to spend Christmas Day in a lonely village of the Middle West, and on his arrival finds in the presence of Beth Elliott, the ticket agent at the depot, a most congenial person. They strike up an acquaintance which soon ripens into affection, and for the first time in his life, the young drummer discovers that he is enthralled with the sweetness and beauty of a charming young lady. Through her, he learns that she is about to lose a tract of land, and he at once takes steps to protect her rights, and thereby runs counter to his employer, who has laid plans to obtain what the girl believes to be a piece of worthless real estate, but which has recently assumed considerable value as it is needed by the railroad company to complete some improvements they have in view. Blake jeopardizes his own position by espousing the rights of the girl, and this leads to many interesting complications. The comedy of the play is of the rollicking, breezy sort, and the love making scenes between Bob Blake and Beth Elliott are of the most delicious character.

Included in the company's roster are a comedian of wide experience who plays Bob Blake, Robt. Lee Allen, the drummer, and Rosalind Randolph, who is said to be an ideal Beth Elliott.

Seats on sale Thursday at Plummer's.

At the Grand Theatre.

The Grand Theatre will offer today one of the best bills of the week and one that will certainly please the large number of patrons of this popular playhouse. There will be three up-to-date pictures and with the realistic effects, these are proving most popular. Then there is the complete orchestra and the soloist, all for the small price of ten cents admission for the night performance and five cents for the afternoons.

"A Vitagraph Romance" is a picture from real life and gives the thrilling story of a girl's escape from a seminary to elope with a young man whom she loves; an encounter with a bull dog on the grounds and the final success of the elopement. The father, a rich Senator, writes the girl she will be forgiven for the disgrace she has brought on the family name. Passing a moving picture theatre he sees the picture of daughter on the canvass. Hastening to the Vitagraph offices he finds the girl acting in a particularly dramatic way for a moving picture film. The girl's appeal to him is strong and he receives her into his arms with forgiveness.

The other feature film for today is a Selig of "The Substitute Model," a sweet story of a young girl who becomes a model in a dry goods store and finally wins her way into employment, contentment and happiness.

"Since I Fell in Love With Mary," will be the title of the ballad today and this will prove very interesting.

At the Bijou.

There is no let-up to the good things at the popular Bijou, and when it comes to springing surprises, this amusement palace is an endless chain. Today's bill will vividly exemplify the fact that the Bijou presents as big a bill as is to be found anywhere and does so, too, at the tiniest price of admission—5 cents, afternoon or night. Just how the Bijou can do such big things for so small money is a mystery, unless it is because the Bijou plays to enormous crowds daily. In fact, this is the solution of the problem, and it also well attests the great popularity of the theatre, which besides presenting big and rare entertainment is a most delightful retreat, no matter the state of the weather.

Today's bill will be headed by one of the prettiest films ever manufactured, and one with a big moral. It is called "Two Daughters of Eve," and it shows and impresses upon one the deadly nature of calumny. It graphically demonstrates what bitterness slander can cause. It is a great lesson and should not be missed.

One of the most fantastic and beautiful of photoplays will be offered in "Memories of Patio Days." It tells of the return of Ygnacio Marquez to his old home, which he finds has been wonderfully changed. His memory goes back and he dreams, and in his dreams there are battles in the old days and other exciting incidents. It is a film rich for color, and ole decidedly out of the ordinary.

The other films on today's list are all the latest and the best, while today's music will be bright and of the newest brand.

LOCAL DOTS.

—License was issued yesterday for the marriage of Nicholas Koutroulies and Artennissia Dendrinou, both Greeks.

—Bids were opened yesterday for furnishing uniforms for the sanitary police. The contract will probably be awarded by Council this morning.

—Cyrus D Hogue, Esq., who recently decided to practice law in this city, has opened an office in the Odd Fellows' Building, occupying Room No. 29.

—The regular weekly meeting of City Council will be held this morning. It was stated at the hall yesterday that there is no matter of special importance scheduled for consideration.

—It was announced yesterday that the management of the agricultural fair to be given at Highwood Park, October 7th to 12th, inclusive, had made arrangements with the Fort Caswell Band to furnish music during the big event.

—Mr. S. A. Nathan, of this city, who is a Junior at the A. & M. College, Raleigh, will probably make the football eleven this season. The Raleigh Evening Times says of him: "Some of the new men are big fellows, Nathan weighing 235 pounds, and being gritty and fast for his avoirdupois."

—Yesterday's cotton region bulletin issued by the Weather Bureau shows some heavy rainfalls in the Wilmington district for Monday as follows: Charlotte 1.42 inches; Cheraw 3.02; Florence 2.80; Lumberton 2.32; Goldsboro 2.05; Newbern 2.48; Raleigh 1.36; and Greensboro 3.75. The rainfall for Wilmington Monday measured .92 inch.

WILMINGTON PRESBYTERY

Fall Session Convened Yesterday at Clarkton—The Proceedings

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clarkton, N. C., Sept. 24.—The opening sermon of Wilmington Presbytery was preached here tonight to a large and attentive congregation by Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., of Wilmington. Dr. McClure selected as his text the 24th and 25th verses of the 12th chapter of John. In his usual happy and sincere style Dr. McClure complimented the people of this community on their handsome new church and paid the gifted young pastor, Rev. R. A. Lapsley, Jr., some delicate and deserving compliments on the good work he is doing here and wishing him God speed in the great work undertaken.

The moderator, Mr. A. F. Johnson, called Presbytery to order and Rev. W. W. Davidson opened the service with prayer. A roll call of members showed the following in attendance: Rev. A. D. McClure, W. M. Shaw, L. E. Wells, J. S. Crowley, W. P. M. Currie, J. M. Plowden, W. W. Davidson and R. A. Lapsley, Jr., also, Rev. H. W. Koelling and Rev. A. J. Howell, both of Wilmington. The following elders answered roll call; N. A. Currie, A. F. Johnson, W. F. Murphy, W. I. Shaw, W. I. Hall, J. J. Wells and A. A. Clark.

Rev. Mr. Davidson, of Elizabethtown, was unanimously elected moderator for this session and Rev. L. E. Wells and Mr. W. I. Shaw temporary clerks.

Rev. J. M. Wells, D. D., was not able to attend the opening session on account of a death in his congregation. Adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Many more delegates are expected at that time.

JUSTICE HARRISS' COURT

Several Cases of Interest Tried by Magistrate Yesterday

Yesterday was a busy day for Justice Harriss, who was disposing of several days' accumulation of cases, having been out of the city Monday. Arthur Cherry, colored, was tried on a charge of abandonment and non-support. Probable cause being found the defendant was bound over to the Recorder's court and in default of bond went to jail.

Dave Foyles and John Foyles, colored, were tried on a charge of trespass on lands claimed by Mr. G. W. Shepard in Harnett township. The question of title to the property having arose the cases were dismissed and the defendants released. Woodus Kellum, Esq., appeared for the prosecution, and Walter P. Gafford, Esq., for the defendant.

In the case against Thos. Malone and Dan Peebles, colored, charged with disturbing a lawful meeting in Cape Fear township, the prosecution failed to make out a case and was taxed the costs.

Emmanuel Foster, a Portuguese, was found guilty of simple assault on George Rowan, a 13-year-old boy, and fined $25 and costs. He gave notice of an appeal to the Recorder's court, but later decided to pay the amount.

Many Driven From Home

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is usually a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers.

SHARKS INFEST N. C. COAST.

Interesting Story From Cape Lookout by Way of Baltimore.

"A real fish story that is worth telling and hearing has just come to town through the medium of Mate Scarborough, of relief ship No. 78, Cape Lookout Shoals, North Carolina," says the Baltimore Sun, of yesterday. "The story is about a monster shark, which members of the ship recently captured and inside of which they found the remains of a 'whopping' big turtle.

"The shark, which was eight feet in circumference, was caught off the relief ship several days ago. It took 12 men to haul in the quarry. When they ripped open their captive the men found the remnants of the turtle.

"All along the North Carolina coast, at the present time, the mariners say, the waters are infested by sharks. Fishing has become a dead letter because of the invasion of them. Five years ago the sharks were seen in large numbers along this coast, but since that time the waters of that section have been comparatively free from them."

BEACH SEASON ENDS

The Oceanic Hotel Will Close Saturday Of This Week

The 1912 season at Wrightsville Beach will formally come to an end Saturday of this week, when the Oceanic Hotel will close. This popular hotel has remained opened nearly a month longer than usual in an effort to extend the season with the object in view of ultimately making the beach an all-year-round resort. The number of guests since September 1st has been more than up to the expectations of the management. The hotel was well patronized all the season and the business will run way up into the thousands. The hotel has been under the expert management of Mr. Jesse N. Couch, who is an experienced hotel man, formerly connected with some of the leading hotels of Atlanta. It is not unlikely that Mr. Couch will be manager again next year.

HUSBAND'S FINAL DECISION

Results In Great Happiness for North Carolina Lady, As Told In Following Advices

Draper, N C.—Mrs. Helen L. Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years, with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death.

Medicines patched me up for a while, but then I would get worse again.

Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, so he bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken.

I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefitted by its use.

There never has been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui.

I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles."

You can rely absolutely on Cardui, the woman's tonic.

For more than 50 years, practically an average life time, it has been going right to the seat of most forms of womanly trouble, building up the weakened organs to their natural state, thereby restoring strength and health.

In this half century of time, it has helped more than a million women. Why shouldn't it do the same for you?

Get a bottle of Cardui today.

COTTON MARKET WAS NERVOUS

An Early Decline Was Recovered on Prediction of Cold Weather in the Western Belt and Close Was Steady.

New York, Sept. 24.—The cotton market was again nervous and irregular during today's trading, but recovered most of an early decline on predictions of cold weather in the Western belt and closing very steady, net unchanged to five points lower.

The opening was steady at a decline of 4 to 5 points in response to lower Liverpool cables, and soon sold 7 to 8 points under the closing figures of last night as a result of pressure from spot sources, scattering liquidation and local operations for a decline.

The failure of the Gulf storm which had moved over the Carolinas overnight to be attended by any reports of high winds, probably inspired part of the early selling, in connection with the rapidly-increasing movement and reports of trade selling of near months in the English market. The Western belt forecast for frosts in the Texas Panhandle caused a rally of 5 to 6 points during the middle of the morning, but this prediction brought in very little fresh buying for long account and prices turned easier again late in the forenoon under continued pressure, which was said to include considerable Southern hedging. After selling about 11 to 16 points net lower the market steadied as a result of covering. Subsequent fluctuations were very narrow until late in the day, Washington wires reached the ring claiming that an official forecast had been issued predicting very cold weather for Oklahoma tonight, with temperatures near the freezing point in Western portions. This started rather active covering and the market recovered most of its loss in the late trading.

Spot closed quiet. Middling uplands, 11.55; do. gulf, 12.00 Sales, 18 bales.

The cotton futures market closed very steady.

STORM WEATHER HELPS WHEAT

Probability That Threshing in Northwest Would be Seriously Delayed Brought About Fair Support for the Market.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Misgivings that threshing Northwest would be seriously delayed by storm weather, brought about fair support for wheat today, but no enthusiasm. The market closed nervous at an advance of 1-8 to 1-4c net. Latest trading left corn varying from 1-2 off to 3-4c up, oats with a gain of 1-8 to 3-8, and provisions ranging from last night's level to 12 1-2 above.

STOCKS CONTINUED UPWARD

The Market Established Some New High Records for the Year—Coppers Were Strong—Railway Issues Active.

New York, Sept. 24.—After backing and filling within a narrow range for the first four hours today, the market suddenly resumed its upward course in the last hour, incidentally establishing more high records for the year. Amalgamated and Anaconda coppers went to their best figures since 1910, a result in large part of the increase of the Anaconda quarterly dividend from 50 to 75 cents per share. Inasmuch as Amalgamated controls Anaconda, it will profit evematerially by the higher dividend.

The rest of the market moved in harmony with the coppers, although some of the standard railroad issues were relatively backward. Both Reading and Lehigh Valley were in demand towards the close, with equal strength in Louisville & Nashville, Atlantic Coast Line, Canadian Pacific and Chicago & Northwestern.

United States Steel, common, which bore signs of selling pressure early in the day, while the preferred shares were conspicuously strong, suddenly rose a full point on heavy dealings. A one point spurt in American Can was the feature of the strong and active close. Call money rose to 5 per cent. again, but most loans were made under that rate. Time money was easier, practically all dates shading a quarter per cent.

The bond market was active, broad and firm with moderately large dealings. Total sales, par value, were $2,550,000. United States government bonds unchanged on call. Total sales 621,800 shares.

"Massive Granite Pillars" Encroach On Raleigh's Sidewalks

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 24.—Claiming that the massive granite pillars of the splendid banking house of the Raleigh Banking & Trust Co., corner of Fayetteville and Hargett streets, encroached three feet on the Fayetteville street sidewalk, City Attorney W. H. Pace is taking steps to have the work on the building stopped until the matter can be settled. To draw in the foundations now would entail several thousand dollars expense. Col. Chas. E. Johnson, president of the bank, and of the Carolina Power & Light Co., which will also have its home in the building, says there will be no interruption in the work as they made absolutely sure of their property rights before locating the walls. The structure is a banking house and office building, being a commercial reproduction of the Madeline Paris, one of the world's gems in architecture.

didates for Governor for the November election at the Statewide primaries of the two parties today. Governor Foss easily defeated District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier, of Boston, while Speaker Walker had a harder contest in disposing of Colonel Everett C. Benton, of Boston.

The vote for the four candidates in 452 out of 574 city wards and towns in the State follows:

Democratic—Foss, 46,964; Pelletier, 27,511.

Republican—Walker, 34,561; Benton, 28,013.

Result In Massachusetts

Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—Governor Eugene N. Foss was renominated by the Democrats in the primary election today. Returns from one-half of the State, including the city of Boston, gave him a lead of nearly 11,000 votes over his opponent, Joseph C. Pelletier, district attorney of Suffolk county. In the same cities and towns Joseph Walker, an ex-speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives had a lead at midnight of about 3,000 over Everett C. Benton, a former member of the Governor's council, for the Republican nomination.

Governor Foss started off with a substantial lead over District Attorney Polletier in Boston and increased it in the outside cities and towns. On the other hand Speaker Walker lost Boston, but more than made up during the early returns in the small cities and towns.

Incomplete returns from the Massachusetts primaries at 10 o'clock tonight indicate the re-nomination of Governor Eugene N. Foss by the Democrats over Joseph C. Polletier, district attorney of Suffolk county. The contest for the Republican nomination for Governor was close and Everett C. Benton, of Boston, formerly a member of the executive council, had but a slight lead over his opponent Joseph Walker, former speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives. In many of the towns the polls did not close until 9 o'clock.

A light vote was cast throughout the State, notwithstanding fair weather and contests in both parties for the head of the ticket. Even Congressional and local Senatorial contests failed to arouse the voters.

Governor Foss expressed himself as well pleased with the returns. He said: "I am gratified at the result and deeply appreciate the signal endorsement of my administration by the party. It spells victory in November."

STRIKE STILL CRITICAL

Company of Militia In Kanawha Zone Attacked Yesterday

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 24.—Events moved rapidly today in the big mine strike of West Virginia.

Conferences were started by Governor William E. Glasscock and military commanders looking to a reduction of the number of State soldiers now on duty in the martial law district of Kanawha county.

A company of State militia was attacked by unknown parties at an isolated point near Dry Branch. Over 50 shots were fired at the troops guarding a coal tripple which, it is believed, an attempt would be made to burn. None of the shots was effective and the attackers fled, making secure their escape in the mountains. The guard at the threatened point was increased.

The constitutionality of sentences imposed by the military commission, which came into life with the proclamation declaring martial law, was attacked by a private detective agency supplying mine guards to coal companies. Two judges of the Supreme Court of Appeals of West Virginia granted an alternative writ of habeas corpus to test the legality of the commission's acts, and the battle will center about the case of W. Y. Tucker, of Virginia, a mine guard, sent to the penitentiary for one year for carrying weapons without a license, and as a non-resident doing police duty.

It was announced today by former State Senator S. B. Montgomery, of Kingwood, that a call would soon be issued by a Statewide conference in this city probably October 3rd to take up the question of drafting labor measures to be presented to the Legislature. Coal operators, miners and representatives of commercial and civic bodies will be asked to participate.

Among the bills advocated are the initiative, referendum and recall; enlarging the powers of the Governor to remove sheriffs, prosecuting attorneys and justices of the peace, who refuse to properly perform the duties of their offices; old-age pensions, minimum wage; power of corporations to employ guards, workmens' compensation act and other measures.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. '24.—Joe Patchen, second and Braden Direst came up to public expectations this afternoon when they won the pacing stakes that were the richest events on the first programme at Columbus' Grand Circuit meeting. Over a spongy track each went a third heat in 2:04 1-2.

TAFT PREDICTS VICTORY.

Issues Prepared Interview Setting Forth His Claims.

New York, Sept. 24.—President Taft in a prepared interview issued tonight, declared that his recent claims of strength were entitled to respect. He repeated that he believed he would be elected and gave his reasons for denying that he had been over-sanguine. He analyzed the political situation as he saw it, maintaining that the regular Republicans would carry the solid East, and hold enough of the Central and Western States to win.

The President made these statements at the home of his brother, Henry W. Taft, where he went on his arrival from Washington late today and received a number of his friends and political associates.

President Taft's statement is as follows:

"When I declared a few weeks ago that I felt reasonably sure of my own re-election in November and of the success of the Republican party, I was regarded by some as entirely over-sanguine and unaware of the situation. Today, however, after a number of indications that the Republican party is still the dominant party and that the expected growth of Democratic strength has failed to materialize, my only declaration is shown to be entitled to respect.

"The Republicans necessarily will have a reduced majority over 1908 because of the presence of three tickets in the field, but the Democratic party will suffer also. The combined strength of the third term party will not be enough to change the ultimate result.

"Five or six weeks ago it was asserted generally that the Republican party would secure the vote of the Solid East, including al the New England States with the exception of Maine and Vermont; that the Democratic party would maintain its hold on the Solid South and that the third term party would secure the solid West, leaving only the Middle West as debatable ground. Today, with the election still one month away, the Republican party finds itself with a strengthened hold on the solid East, having routed the third term party in Vermont and the Democratic party in Maine. The third term leaders recently conceded that we would pick the State of Utah out of the solid West and after conferring with Chairman Hilles and others recently in the West there is every reason to believe that the Republican party will carry Michigan, Washington, Idaho and Wyoming. Moreover, if the proper kind of a campaign is waged, we will carry Oregon, Kansas and Minnesota, where the third term strength has rapidly waned since the recent tour through that section by the party's candidate.

"I am not familiar with the developments in other Western States, although many good reports have come to me at Beverly concerning them, but even with the States already mentioned it can be seen that there is no longer a solid West back of the new party, but more nearly, a solid West re-united in support of the Republican ticket. This strength, added to the indisputable Republican hold on the Eastern States constitutes in itself a sufficient strength to give success to the party.

"It is scarcely necessary for me to point to the necessity of re-establishing a Republican majority in the House of Representatives. If this is done I feel confident that I will be able to have placed on the statute books the Works compensation law which I urged upon the last session, but which was sent to oblivion by the Democratic House. If the country will give the Republican party complete victory in its Congressional as well as its Presidential ticket a proper tariff revision will be speedily effected, with knowledge of the facts ascertained by a tariff commission, which will harm no one and remove its present defects."

Among the prominent politicians who called upon the President today was Alvah H. Martin, of Virginia.

The President left for Altoona, Pa., shortly before midnight. Chairman Hilles will join the President at Harrisburg, Pa., tomorrow night as he comes eastward bound for Boston. The President and Mr. Hilles will hold a conference here in Boston or in Beverly later in the week to which the Republican State chairmen of the New England States and many other Republican leaders in New England have been invited. The President made it clear that he has not changed his position announced from Beverly, of keeping hands off the New York State political affairs. He declared that he had no candidate for Governor and would leave the choice to the Saratoga convention.

BANK CLERK CONFESSES.

Wm. H. Bell Admits Taking Package Containing $55,000.

Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 24.—William H. Bell, a 20-year-old bank clerk, tonight confessed that he robbed the local First National Bank Tuesday of a package containing $55,000 of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad's payroll and substituted a bogus package in its place.

Fear that the officers would suspect his brother is said to have caused Bell to confess.

The young bank clerk has been in the employ of the local bank for two years. In his confession to detectives tonight he declared that he had planned to secure the money a week before the pay roll was made up. Last Sunday he made a bogus package similar in shape and size to the payroll package of money, filled with magazine slips.

On Tuesday afternoon when the Louisville & Nashville payroll was being fixed for shipment, he slipped the package containing the $55,000 into his locker and substituted the package of paper in its place.

No one noticed the change of the bogus package, together with a shipment of $20,000, was taken to the express office and receipted.

Bell took the package of money to his home Tuesday night in a suit case. Activities by detectives and officials when the robbery became known caused him to return the money Saturday.

He wrapped the package in a newspaper and after notifying the cashier of the First National Bank where the missing money would be found, he placed it on the back steps of the bank building.

For a father to tell about a new baby takes a lot of drinks.

MINISTRY FALLING OFF

College Men Are Now Taking Up Other Professions

Washington, Sept. 24.—The original purpose of American colleges was mainly to train men for the ministry, but so it is no longer. Harvard, founded chiefly to educate clergymen, now gives to that profession barely two per cent of her graduates.

Yale, begun under similar impulses, now contributes 3 per cent. This and other interesting changes in the professions favored by college graduates are described in a bulletin just issued by the United States Bureau of Education.

The decline in numbers going to the ministry has been accompanied by a rise in the professions of teaching, law and business. All three have been more or less consistent gainers at the expense of the ministry.

At Harvard the ministry yielded the leadership to law after the Revolutionary War and law remained the dominanet profession of Harvard until 1880, when business took the lead. At Yale the ministry competed successfully with law until after the middle of the 19th century, when law took the ascendency and kept it until 1895, being then displaced by business. At the University of Pennsylvania one-fourth of the graduates used to go into the ministry, now about one-fiftieth do so. Oberlin shows the same story of the decline in numbers of men going into the ministry. At the University of Michigan, out of an army of more than 15,000 graduates, only 188 have become ministers.

Aside from their contributions to the clergy, most of the universities and colleges have had favorite professions. At Columbia, Dartmouth and Michigan, for instance, it is law; at Pennsylvania it is medicine; at Oberlin, Wisconsin, and many others, particularly the co-educational institutions, it is teaching; while a few of the universities, Brown, for example, have shown an impartial spirit, dividing up their strength almost equally among four leading professions.

A final summary of 37 representative colleges shows that teaching is now the dominant profession of college graduates, with 25 per cent; business takes 20 per cent; law, which took one-third of all the graduates at the beginning of the 19th century, now claims but 15 per cent; medicine takes between six and seven per cent, and seems to be slightly on the decline; engineering is slowly going up, but still takes only three or four per cent, while the ministry with its present 5 to 6 per cent of the total, has reached the lowest mark for that profession in the two and a half centuries of American college history.

SETTLEMENT TODAY

Railroads and Employes Will Reach Amicable Agreement

Washington, Sept. 24.—An amicable settlement of the controversy which has been pending for several weeks between the railroads operating throughout the South and their trainmen and conductors is expected today by Judge Martin A. Knapp, of the Commerce Court and Commissioner of Labor Charles P. Neill, mediators under the Erdman Act, who were called in to settle the difficulties.

The mediators today held long conferences with the parties to the controvrsies, seeing first the officials of the railroads and then the representatives of the conductors and trainmen.

Practically a complete agreement has been reached on the question of increased wages for the trainmen; but representatives of the conductors would not accede to the proposition suggested by the railroads. This difficulty is expected to be settled tomorrow. No one would divluge tonight the nature of the agreement for the trainmen.

Practically every railroad south of the Ohio river and east of the Mississippi, with the exception of the Norfolk & Western and the Chesapeake & Ohio, which recently settled with their conductors and trainmen, through the mediators, are involved in the controversy.

A Few Years Hence—"What are you buzzing around here for?" inquired the man in the monoplane. "Looking for the old flying hole," answered the chap with the biplane, "where we boys learned to fly."

One way to hold a man's interest is to take a mortgage on his property.

People have hysterics and think it is temperament.
